Death Calls Siamese Monarch From Throne

RAMA VI, King of Siam, who died at Bangkok yesterday.

New Monarch Mounts Throne in Siam Capital

Prince Dhipok Proclaimed King in Succession to Rama VI, Able Ruler, Now Dead

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—His Royal Highness Prince Dhipok of Sukhodai, has been proclaimed King of Siam in succession to King Rama VI, whose death occurred this morning, according to information cable dated today to William W. Armstrong, consular representative of Siam in this country, by Prince Trairong, Siam's Minister for Foreign Affairs. The new monarch was educated in England.

An Able Monarch

BANGKOK, Siam, Nov. 26.—Rama VI, King of Siam, who died here today, was known as an able and enlightened monarch, and much of the progress of Siam in the last fifteen years is ascribed to him. He brought in western advance in many phases of government, raised the laws and encouraged progress in medicine and hygiene.

One of his most radical reforms was the abolition of the harem by the royal household. His father, Rama V, was known as a weak monarch.

Queen Makes Last Journey Into London

Royal Coffin Removed With Simple Ceremony From Sandringham to Metropolis—Service Tomorrow

King and Princes Walk Through Snow

Quiet Entry Made Into Capital—Route Kept Secret in Deference to Wishes of Royal Family

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The body of Queen Alexandra, rested tonight in the chapel of St. James' Palace. Just before 11 o'clock tomorrow morning the coffin will be taken to Westminster Abbey, where funeral services are to be held. Throughout the afternoon the general public will be permitted to pass through the Abbey to pay their respects to the Queen Mother.

In the evening the body will be taken to Windsor Castle, and Saturday morning after a committal service, attended only by the Royal Family and the members of Alexandra's household, will be placed in the royal tomb house under the chapel of Edward VII and Alexandra in the chapel, the body will be placed there.

Simple Journey

With the simplicity that marked her life, the Queen Mother made her last journey from Sandringham to London today. After luncheon the Royal Family went to the little Sandringham Church, where the body has rested since last Sunday. There was a short service, and then ten tall Grenadiers carried the coffin to a gun carriage, on which it was borne to a black draped train waiting at the Wolverton station for the journey to London—a distance of about 100 miles.

At the procession traversed snow-covered lanes, the King walked immediately behind the coffin with the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Prince George, Queen Mary and other ladies of the party followed in carriages. Then came the household staff, the country gentry, tenants, and even the most humble of servants.

There was only a momentary suspension of traffic as the motor hearse proceeded from the railway station in London to St. James' Palace. As the time and the route were kept an official secret out of deference to the wishes of the Royal Family, there were no crowds along the way.

Former Food Controller Is Forum Orator

Fish and Game of the Island Should Be Conserved, Says Mr. H. B. Thomson, at Chamber Meeting

Recommend Cattle Market as Desirable

THE citizens of Victoria should safeguard, as an asset for the tourist trade, the native fish and game of the island, they should through the Chamber of Commerce endeavor to utilize for irrigation the Elk Lake watershed, and the present produce market facilities should be extended in the form of a cattle market. Such were some of the recommendations of Mr. H. B. Thomson to the Forum of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce last evening.

His subject was selected owing to the interest in Pacific trade, stimulated by the remarks of Mr. A. M. Doherty at the recent meeting of commercial representatives of all parts of Canada at Winnipeg, and was termed "Port Development."

Mr. Thomson dealt first with Imperial trade, and then with the land and its agricultural products.

Inter Dominion Trade

Discussing the question of Imperial trade, Mr. Thomson said the British Dominions must look to Britain for the ultimate expansion of their overseas and export business. He argued that Imperial trade was closely bound up with the problem of land settlement.

Quoting figures to show that the trade of the British Dominions represented twice as much per capita as the trade of foreign countries to the British themselves, he pointed out that the argument of General Smuts at the last Imperial Economic Conference, was sound, that the Mother Country must be prepared to take more of the produce of the Dominions.

It followed with question of Imperial trade went that of Imperial preference. They knew today that the British Empire was self-supporting. Why not keep trade in the family? (Applause.)

Tribute to Mr. Wade

Trade of the Empire had been steadily growing. He paid a tribute to Mr. Wade.

Legislatures Of 2 Nations Meet in City

Visitors From Washington State Attend Session of B. C. House and Hear the Budget Speech

Dignity Impresses U.S. Lawmakers

Hon. J. D. MacLean Complimented by Leader on His Presentation of Financial Statement

YESTERDAY saw history made in British Columbia. Yesterday, for the time in the history of Canada and the United States, Legislatures representing each country met together in one harmonious whole, and by their meeting, demonstrated the reason why the 3,000 miles of Canada-United States boundary is unguarded by a single fort, a single gun.

The visitors, members of the Legislature of the State of Washington, U.S.A., led by Hon. W. L. Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor of that unit of the great Union to the South, arrived in the Capitol City of British Columbia shortly after 1 o'clock by boat from Seattle. At 2 o'clock, when the British Columbia Legislature opened its daily session, they were seated in the galleries; the Washington State Speaker, Hon. Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, and Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, of Victoria, who read the opening prayers, being placed beside Mr. Speaker Buckham, of the British Columbia House. Each visitor was courteous and intensely interested in the procedure of Parliament as conducted in a British country under the system so long followed at Westminster, London, the mother of Parliaments.

Visitors Impressed

They watched the order in which the Legislature was opened, and were impressed by the dignity so associated with the ancient procedure of the Mother of Parliaments. A feature of the session was the entry of His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol, representative in British Columbia of His Majesty King George the Fifth. His Honor was attended by his suite, naval and military officers of the Esquimalt Naval Station and military establishments of the Capital, and at the Speaker's desk, gave royal assent to a bill.

Following his departure, the House got under way with its regular business, and there was just sufficient

Menzie Bay Is Objective for Telephone Line

B. C. Telephone Company Plans to Tap Important Logging Route on East Coast of Island

Only Telegraph Line Now

The B. C. Telephone Company is considering extension of its line from Campbell River to Menzie Bay. Officials have been looking over the ground this week, in order to give service to the important logging industry in that district.

At present Menzie Bay has the same emergency telephone connection as many outlying points on the Island and Lower Mainland by Government Telegraph lines after six o'clock nightly and on public holidays, when the telegraph service is dormant, by arrangement with the Dominion Government.

The proposal would give a regular daily service to the settlement, which is an important lumbering base.

An examination of the locality shows that there are two alternative routes for the telephone line, either by the Government Telegraph line, nine miles from Campbell River, or by an abandoned logging line, about seven miles long.

An announcement of the company's intentions will be made as soon as the details are completed. The last northerly development of the company on the Island was the thirty-mile section from Courtenay to Campbell River, which has proved of great value to the community.

Teuton House Passes Europe Peace Treaty

Reichstag Giver Overwhelming Majority to Law Confirming Berlin Participation in Security Agreement

Entry Into League Also Sanctioned

Formal Application to Be Made Next Month—Opposition From Ludendorff Faction Defeated

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—By an overwhelming majority the Reichstag today adopted on the second reading the law approving the Security Pact and arbitration treaties initiated at Locarno and Germany's entry into the League of Nations.

Tomorrow the treaties will be formally ratified with the third reading of the measure, thus giving Chancellor Luther and Foreign Secretary Stresemann to proceed to London to sign the pact and treaties.

In the course of the next month Germany will make formal application for admission to the League.

The only opposition to the various treaties came from the German Nationalists, Communists and Extreme Nationalists led by Gen. Ludendorff.

The attempt of the Nationalists to forestall Germany's admission to the League by demanding the enactment of a special law authorizing such procedure was defeated by a heavy vote.

Score Drowned In Terrific Europe Storm

Small Craft Wrecked—Wireless Towers Crash—Wind Flattens Waves—Gale Amazes Mariners

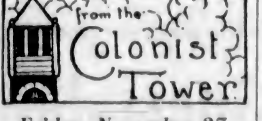

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Along the North Sea coasts of England and the continent numerous fishing boats and other small craft were wrecked with the loss of a score or more of lives yesterday by a storm which sea captains arriving at London on ships packed with frozen spray to the worst in their experience.

Reports from the northern European coasts indicate a violent and damaging storm, three high wireless towers at Norddeich, near Bremen, collapsed, while in Denmark the storm caused the King's ship to be blown to London for the funeral of Queen Alexandra, disorganized traffic generally and severed communications.

The skipper of a channel boat from Amsterdam said "the wind was so strong it flattened out the waves until the sea looked like a great expanse of white table cloth spread upon it. In all my years, I have never seen anything like this."

Prosperity in B.C. Here to Stay Predicts Minister of Finance

Province, Well-Equipped to Carry Burden of Its Debt, Stands Supreme in Dominion—Summary Given of Position Held Industrially and Commercially

THERE can be no possible doubt that British Columbia may confidently look to ever-increasing prosperity; that it is well able to carry the burden of its debt, in fact, more than any other Canadian Province; and that its financial standing is without peer in the Dominion," declared Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, in concluding a review of industrial and commercial conditions in the Province during the course of his Budget address.

"For mining, fisheries, agriculture, lumbering and manufacturing," he said, "British Columbia ranks third among the provinces in gross production, but per head of population it holds the premier position."

Based on a population of 525,522, the Minister declared, British Columbia had a total production of $291,810,734, or an annual per capita return of $746.89. The Province of Ontario, its closest competitor, with a total production of $1,538,868,190,

Express Companies Lower Tariff for Winter Shipments From Coast to Prairies

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—British Columbia fruits and vegetables, move to the prairie provinces this winter under unusually low express rates, resulting from the rates having been announced to become effective December 1. It was learned here today.

The special Summer rates on fruit and vegetables are terminated on November 30, but instead of bringing into force the second class rates customarily applying from December 1 to April 30, the railway express companies are introducing a tariff which is only ten per cent above the special Summer rates.

House Banquet Tightens Bonds Of International Friendship

Washington State Legislators Guests of British Columbians at Official Dinner—Event Will Take Place in History, Say Speakers—Goodwill Stressed

INTERNATIONAL goodwill, good fellowship—and not only maintenance of the present sound relations between the United States and Canada, but through Canada, continued goodwill and cordial relations between the people of the United States and the British Empire, constituted the permeating atmosphere of the banquet given last night by the Legislature of British Columbia to its visitors, the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Washington and members of the Washington State Legislature and Senate.

The event was a historical one and will take a position of prominence in the record of events of this Province. Not only did it contain historical significance to British Columbia, but to the Dominion of Canada as well as to this being the first time in the history of either country that such an evidence of the friendly basis of international relationship had been recorded. It ranked, speakers declared, with the visit of the late President Harding to Vancouver two years ago, when the late leader of the Republic to the south urged upon the English-speaking peoples of the world development of the spirit of cooperation as a means of assuring

British Drive Against Reds Stirs Critics

Good Name of Justice Not Safe in Hands of Present Home Secretary, Suggests Manchester Guardian

Carson, Birkenhead Actions Recalled

Former Made Judge, Latter Lord Chancellor, Despite Boasts That Army Would Be With Them

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The conviction of twelve leaders of the British Communist Party here yesterday on charges of seditious libel and incitement to mutiny in the military forces, was the leading topic of all the newspapers. Many of them applauded the prosecution of the Reds as providing a healthy warning, and none questioned the legality of the conviction.

The Manchester Guardian, Liberal, suggests that the popular conclusion of the English people in the administration of the law is not what it was fifteen years ago, when members of Parliament circulated a battalion of the Grenadiers in London inciting them to mutiny in the interests of the Conservative Party.

Other Days Recalled
The Field-Marshal took a hand in the dirty work of reducing the soldiers from their duty.

"Lord Birkenhead gleefully prophesied, as some of the seditious Communist do now, that the army would break in the Government's hands if ordered to enforce the law where the law was extremely distasteful to his own party."

The Guardian concludes by saying that it would be childish optimism to expect that such causes would be without their effect and suggests that the good name of British criminal justice is not altogether safe in the hands of the present Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, under whose development the movement against the Communist activities has been begun.

Further Actions Possible
The imprisonment of virtually the whole executive of the Communist organization may possibly not end the Communist Party's discomfiture. Justification of further proceedings against the party may be regarded as embodied in a significant phrase used by Judge Swift in sentencing the twelve leaders of the party yesterday. "You are members of an illegal party carrying on illegal work," he said.

Father (angrily): "Young man, didn't I see you kiss my daughter?"
Lover (blandly): "Really, I don't know. I was too busy to notice."

The Session

The Sovereign State of Washington—In the 'Persons of Its Visiting Legislators—Looks Down Upon the House—And Takes Note of How Things Are Done—With Promptness and Dispatch—For This Occasion Only—With Many Indications of Wonderment and Admiration—And Everyone Is Edified.

The Press Gallery, Thursday.
The sovereign State of Washington, looking down today upon the sixteenth parliament of British Columbia, in second session assembled. The sovereign State of Washington, in the persons of some forty of its senators and assemblymen, looked down upon the honorable members of this House, every man in his place, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, of Vancouver, in her place, every man's heart in the right place. From the best seats in the front row of the galleries, the visitors from Olympia looked down upon a British Parliament in being.

The sovereign State of Washington, with such conjectural emotions of wonderment and admiration as might be deduced from an attentive demeanor, was looking down upon a state of affairs probably without precedent in British parliamentary annals. For, with the approval of Mr. Speaker, the House of Commons, in the unusually amiable opposition, the Hon. First Minister had been induced to arrange the order of business with special reference to those conjecturally wondering and admiring eyes in the galleries. The statements from the neighboring Republic were to be privileged to witness a complete cross section of the oldest parliamentary system in the world; to see it in being; to see it with all its parts in perfect working order; to see it in its observance of immemorial tradition; and happily to marvel that, like some gothic structure, still beautiful and still weatherproof, its massive stones holding the mass of centuries and resisting all the onslaughts of time, it could still challenge the admiration of the world.

If the House today was conscious of those wondering and admiring eyes, it still managed to convey the impression of serene unconsciousness. That Hon. Attorney-General Manson was singularly unexceptional in his punctilious references to his honorable friends of the carping and captious opposition, well, after all, it was not every day that a British Legislature Assembly could welcome to its deliberations the elected representatives of a foreign and friendly people. If it was a full dress parade, it should be gone through with due pomp and circumstance. If the sovereign State of Washington was there to see how it was done, it should be done with the rigor of the game.

There was one circumstance of the outward aspect of the House which must have stirred the imaginations of the legislators from across the border. On the Clerk's table was a crown of pure white flowers, tied with a purple knot of ribbon. It was the reminder of the House, to its visitors, to itself, that the Legislature of a British people on the outworn marches of the Empire, was keeping in memory the Sea King's daughter; that British Columbia, six thousand miles away, was keeping vigil with all the peoples of the Empire around the casket of the dead Queen at Westminster, that Queen of whom it had been said, with exact rectitude of phrase: "She was lovely in person and in character, and she was beloved wherever she was known."

The legislators from Washington, looking down from their attentive seats in the galleries, took note of these things. They took note of the celerity with which the occasion justifying it and the opposition displaying an almost incredible acquiescence, legislation could be expedited under the British parliamentary system. They took note of the fact that Hon. Attorney-General Manson, the parliamentary statesman duly set for the dramatic presentation, could introduce, pilot through first reading, second reading and committee the Police and Prisons Regulations Act, a bill designed to give the Department of the Attorney-General additional disciplinary control of the Provincial Police Force. What the legislators from Washington were not able to take note of was the final procedure in relation to that bill. The programme did not quite go through as scheduled. The incredibly acquiescent opposition, despite the wondering and admiring eyes in the galleries, thought that this bill must undergo some minor amendments. The honorable and gallant member for Alberni thought the House should do business just as if there were no one more important.

in the galleries than usual. Hon. Attorney-General Manson, bowing to the force of these disquieting circumstances, was compelled to curtail the final act of his little show, which was to have presented the Police and Prisons Regulations Act receiving the assent of His Honor.

The galleries were not denied their momentary glimpse of His Honor, for all that. The Premier, rising to the height of this occasion, announced, Mr. Speaker, that His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor was in waiting to give his assent to Bill No. 2. Mr. Speaker, accompanied by the mace, left the House. Mr. Speaker, accompanied by the mace, returned to the House, following His Honor, who had not so far gratified the wondering and admiring eyes in the galleries as to don his uniform of state. Mr. Clerk of the House, Mr. Speaker, announced that His Honor was pleased to give his assent to Bill No. 2, which was an act to validate official appointments made with inadvertent disregard to all the lawful observances over a long term of years. His Honor went out. Mr. Speaker in attendance. Mr. Speaker came back, and the admiring and wondering eyes in the galleries had the felicity of observing the departure of Hon. Finance Minister MacLean, what time he brought down the Budget, to the accompaniment of that time-honored motion, that "Mr. Speaker do now leave the chair."

The legislators from Washington did not have the opportunity of seeing Mr. Speaker leave the chair on this motion. They must wait long beyond the term of their allotted holiday for that event. Much water of debate must run under the legislative bridges before Mr. Speaker leaves his chair in that sense, and the House goes into committee of supply. The Government benches must have time to point with pride. The opposition benches must have more time to view with alarm. Meanwhile the Hon. Finance Minister had the Budget to bring down. He brought it down, in a speech which had managed to compress within a two-hour compass the monumental work which constitutes the official document. He brought it down with pride in the favorable financial aspect of things, with alarming words about the tendency of gross debts to increase, with comforting words about the probability of net debts decreasing some time in the future, with almost lyrical eloquence about the good old Sinking Funds, with promises of certain small but not unwelcome reduction of taxes. And, the Budget safely brought down and committed to the mercies of the carping opposition, the House went back to its hotel to dress for the dinner which Mr. Speaker is giving tonight to the visitors from Olympia.

Request Made That House Fix Toll Rate

Opposition Leader Objects to Minister Being Given Power to Determine Rate

A definite request was made to the Government during the debate on the Highway Bill that the House should fix the rate of tolls on the Fraser Canyon Highway, a road which had been put under the control of the Minister, as was intended by the bill. The Premier gave an assurance that the tolls would be "moderate." The Government included in the bill a separate clause declaring the Fraser Canyon Highway a toll road.

Mr. R. H. Pooley, leader of the opposition, objected to the clause, to the Legislature delegating or surrendering its powers in regard to tolls, which were a matter of direct taxation, he remarked. The Minister of Public Works, Hon. Dr. W. H. Sutherland, who was in charge of the administration of that portion of the bill relating to tolls, told the House it was a matter of great difficulty to the Government. So many classes used the road, from tourists to ordinary residents, that it was quite impracticable to fix the charges to please all. He suggested that the department be allowed to give the toll a trial for a year, to find out what a tally of traffic in that period would mean. They would then be in a position to enable them to fix the rate of tolls definitely.

Adequate charge urged.
"We do not want to make it unpopular," remarked the Premier. "That fact will guide us in using the necessary restraint."

Mr. George Walker, Point Grey, said that they must take into consideration the certainty that the cost of maintenance of the Canyon Highway, would be heavy. It would amount, he considered, practically to the cost of reconstructing it. For that reason, a toll should be charged that would be adequate. He did not think the $5 proposed was excessive. Mr. Pooley reiterated his demand for the Legislature to be the competent authority to fix the toll. How, he asked, would the opposition be in a position next year to have the question reopened? It would then be a matter of the revenue of the Government.

In Writing Preferred
The Premier replied that they had opportunity at any time to record their protest against any toll the Government might fix. He again assured the House that the toll would be moderate.

"Give us that in writing," said Mr. Pooley, amid laughter. "I would not like to be held responsible for anything that was not given over my signature," he added.

The House reported progress on the bill, with some clauses left for future consideration by the committee.

Carno Cleared by Jury Of Manslaughter Charge

REVELSTOCK, B.C., Nov. 24.—After deliberating forty minutes the jury last night brought in a verdict of not guilty in the Carno manslaughter case. The original charge was one of murder, but this was reduced to manslaughter this morning by the grand jury. Carno was alleged to have caused the death of Tony Wykoff at Golden on July 17. Carno was introduced by the Crown to show that Carno and the deceased had engaged in a fight on a Golden street.

THE PROVINCIAL BUDGET.

Chief interest in the Budget speech of Dr. J. D. MacLean, the Provincial

Finance Minister, will centre on the tax reductions to be put into force.

The greatest relief the Government,

in any government, can give is in the matter of income tax. The collection, or rather the estimated collection,

from this source for the next fiscal year is to be reduced by $500,000. The tax on personal incomes up to $3,000 is reduced to one per cent; on incomes of from $3,000

to $4,000, from three to two per cent;

and on business incomes over $20,000

a year the tax in future will be eight instead of ten per cent. It is stated

moreover that each section of business and personal incomes will be given relative reductions, so that the relief may be felt all round.

The reductions will be received with approval. They have been expected ever since the Government took control of liquor receipts, and, even if legated, they are none the less welcome. It is, moreover, proposed to reduce the personal property tax by ten per cent, where it affects business adversely, with a promise that this tax will be abolished altogether in a year's time, provided the Government is satisfied that a tax on gross incomes can be substituted for it satisfactorily. This may mean nothing in the way of ultimate taxation relief,

but the reduction for the coming fiscal year is at least definite and will be appreciated by all who object to a very unpopular tax. These reductions in income and personal tax are the only ones promised. They are an instalment, however, in the way of inducing greater capital investment in the Province.

The Finance Minister estimates a revenue for the coming fiscal year of $18,064,396, with revenue from capital

as $495,000, and an estimated expenditure of $15,457,716, with capital expenditures of $2,789,235. In considering the financial commitments of the future, Dr. MacLean announces that the Government this session is asking the Legislature for loans of $4,500,000, of which $2,000,000 is for the University of British Columbia

Buildings and townships; $2,500,000

and $250,000 for land settlement and land development purposes. The capital commitments, therefore, are to be greater than in the present fiscal year

up to date.

We are somewhat at a loss to account for the Finance Minister's method of reasoning which would denote prosperity in British Columbia

above the prosperity in other provinces of the Dominion because the total exports from the Province for nine months ending on September 30 were $281.23 per capita, while Canada's entire exports during that period were $13.80 per capita. He does not say whence those exports originated. British Columbia is a seaport province with the terminus of transcontinental railways and much of Canada's trade logically flows through its ports. There is nothing

therefore, of the export trade of this Province with that of other provinces in this respect, unless the comparison is between products

actually originating within each province. That is the case, too, with imports. The bulk of the imports passing through our ports are not

British Columbia's consumption. Import trade and its distribution is a matter of population to a great extent. The figures given by the Finance Minister of the exports from

Canada to Japan, to China, to India,

to the Straits Settlements, to Australia and to New Zealand are figures

regarding products originating in the Dominion as a whole. They are not

British Columbia's exports, and, as a matter of fact, the Provincial Government, so far as we have ever been able to learn, does not keep any statistics of the actual products of this Province which are shipped overseas.

Dr. MacLean has plenty to talk about in the matter of British Columbia without encroaching on Federal trade matters. It is well to know that British Columbia ports are receiving a larger share of business than in the past. Vancouver is the chief beneficiary because it is the terminus of the transcontinental roads.

It is not through anything that the Province has done in the matter of this respect is increasing and the figures relative to it have no right place in a provincial budget. They are obtainable from the Federal trade returns. Otherwise it is only fair to say that the Finance Minister's Budget speech is a carefully prepared document which reflects a good deal of research and which does credit to his estimate of the importance of the portfolio which he holds. He has given the people a measure of reduction in taxation for which they have been clamoring so long. It might have been a greater reduction, and particularly in the matter of the per-soul property tax. So far as income tax is concerned the people of British Columbia are under a dual burden which weighs heavily on their economic efforts. We hope the Finance Minister is right in assuming that the Dominion Government is also contemplating income tax reductions.

The tax is a fair one when not too onerous, but for a country with the great natural resources of British Columbia from which the Government of this Province derives such a revenue the income tax might well be much lighter than it is, especially with the source of revenue the Government now enjoys through liquor control.

RECRIMINATIONS

The President of the local Liberal

Association says that the Provincial

Civil Service Commissioner was an issue in the late Federal election campaign. This is the first time such an issue was brought. It will come as a surprise to the Commissioner himself, to the Civil Servants and to the public at large. The issue raised by the President of the Liberal Association was mentioned on no platform.

It was so, subterranean seemingly,

that no whisper of the current's echo reached the ears of the press. It is not mentioned, nor do we believe it was thought of, by the Civil Servants themselves. It is an alibi for defeat

that is the shadow of a shade.

We would ask the President of the Liberal Association if he is quite fair or sportsmanlike to Mr. W. H. Mc-

Innes, the Civil Service Commissioner

in question. No provincial employee should be subjected to being dragged in by the heels into Federal politics. Such an attempt discredits

the party responsible, and since the pretext that Mr. McInnes has in any way been liable for a Liberal defeat rests on the flimsiest of grounds, in fact has only been conjured up seemingly on the spur of the moment, it is necessary in defence of the reputation of the Commissioner to say that in the present instance he is quite guiltless.

The President of the Liberal Association should give the Civil Servants more credit for intelligence and powers of reasoning than is implied

by his accusation. The members of that Service represent a high standard of citizenship of a calibre perfectly competent in estimating the issues of a Federal election campaign. No one knows how they voted in the aggregate and it is not a matter that should be public knowledge so long as the secrecy of the ballot maintains.

To suggest that, even inferentially,

any one of the Civil Servants injected

Mr. McInnes in his or her thoughts into the issues of that campaign is to argue a process of reasoning that does not exist in the Civil Service mind.

On the grounds suggested we think that the President of the Liberal Association owes an apology to Mr.

McInnes. There is neither rhyme nor reason for dragging him personally

into the recriminations in the Liberal ranks. A Government employee's reputation should be safe from such attacks unless there are legitimate grounds for them when the Government which he serves is on trial before the people.

Charge Never Made, States City's Mayor

Chief Magistrate Does Not Believe Water Commission Accusation Was Ever Told to Mr. Frank Higgins

Clashes Frequent at Committee Session

Mayor Pendray Makes Vigorous Denial of Charges Levelled at Him by Opponents to Expropriation

He believed that Mr. Frank Higgins had never been told that the Equimait Waterworks Company was paying a $10,000 commission in connection with the expropriation of the system by the city. Mayor J. Carl Pendray declared at yesterday morning's session of the private bills committee of the House.

Tempera flared up in the course of the debate and verbal clashes were frequent and bitter as the city continued its fight for legislation to validate the expropriation. When proceedings opened the chairman announced he accepted the city council's resolution affirming its innocence on the charge that any of its members, or any city official, had shared in the alleged $10,000 commission. Later, Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., counsel for the Equimait Waterworks Company, allied with the city in seeking the legislation, was interrupted in what was believed was about to be a denial on behalf of the company of the commission "charge." The chairman ruled that the incident was closed.

Charges Denied

Mayor Pendray made a vigorous speech in denial of arguments and charges levelled against him by opponents to the bill, and defended City Solicitor Pringle from the insinuation that he had feigned the necessity of a holiday in order to be in Victoria while the expropriation was being carried out.

Replying to Reeve Macnicol's assertion that the city had not dealt fairly with Saanich in advancing the price of water suddenly and without proper notice, Mayor Pendray charged that Reeve Macnicol had said that he would appoint a committee to deal with the problem in conference with the city and then had failed to do so. "Councillor Kirkham told me he never heard anything about the matter," declared the Mayor, "and that the meeting never took place."

Reeve Macnicol, of Equimait, continued his efforts to discredit the city's position by pointing out the fact that the city had not been consulted by the city council when the expropriation was being carried out.

Later, he charged that the only reason the city had expropriated the Equimait system was so that it could be able to transfer the system to the waterworks company, which was a private enterprise. He declared that the city had not been consulted by the city council when the expropriation was being carried out.

Mr. M. Maclean, member for Maclean, referred to a document which he said that he had read a statement of the city's willingness to assume all obligations of the Equimait Waterworks Company.

Definition Urged

The Mayor replied that he wanted the extent of the city's undertaking to be definitely outlined in the bill. "You want an obligation to waste the water," he declared. "No, I don't," retorted Reeve Macnicol.

"You don't know what you want— but that's all right," he said. "Not to define the city's obligations explicitly in the bill would lead to litigation," Reeve Macnicol contended.

Mr. Frank Higgins, K.C., counsel for private citizens opposed to the bill, objected to the inclusion of amendments without their having been advertised in the regular way. Mr. Higgins asked that Mr. George Oliver, whom he described as a "practical plumber," be allowed to describe the condition of the Equimait Waterworks pipe system.

Immediately there was a clamor from counsel for all sides. The city argued that Mr. Oliver, of North Saanich, should be heard in support of the bill. Alderman Clearhue urged that a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce, representing about 1,200 petitioners, should be heard in support of the bill. These men had attended the committee sessions on all three mornings, he said, and should be given a chance to speak.

Chairman Gives Ruling
The chairman finally made himself heard to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce delegation had lost their privilege of speaking when they failed to announce themselves at a previous session when invited to do so. North Saanich had already made out its case. And he could not possibly permit Mr. Oliver to speak at this stage without permitting anyone else to speak and prolonging the work of the committee beyond all reason. Mr. C. L. Harrison, counsel for the city, seemed to reply to the "disgraceful" personal accusations which had been flung across the room. He outlined the legal aspects of the case and showed that it was not necessary to submit the question of the expropriation to the ratepayers in the form of a by-law. The Victoria Waterworks Act of 1922 only required this to be done when the city borrowed money or constructed new works. The city was buying this system from the revenue it produced, he said.

Answering Mr. Higgins' contention that the city was compelled by the terms of a by-law passed in 1914 to submit the expropriation to a vote of the ratepayers, Mr. Harrison replied that that by-law dealt with the powers of the water commission in connection with the Saanich Lake system. Even granting that Mr. Higgins' argument was sound, the by-law was nevertheless superseded by a Provincial statute.

Mayor Denies Statements
As for Saanich's contention that

Eighty-Five and Still a 'Caller-Up'

MRS. CATHERINE JOWETT

Mrs. Catherine Jowett, of Bradford, England, who is eighty-five years of age, is still working at her occupation of "caller-up" and is using the same blackthorn stick and lantern as she did forty years ago when she took up her "business" from her husband, who died. "Calling up" is commonly known in Yorkshire and Lancashire, where workers have ten cents a thousand gallons was too high a rate to be charged for water—eleven years ago a former water commissioner had informed the municipality that the city could not supply water for less than that figure.

Mayor Pendray opened his speech with the declaration that he did not believe that "that man" had ever made such a statement about a $50,000 commission to Mr. Higgins.

The Mayor denied the statement of Mr. Higgins to the effect that he had "told the people into a false sense of security by promising to submit the expropriation to a vote of the ratepayers."

"I do not remember ever making any announcement to this effect," he declared. "I have asked all the aldermen, with the single exception of Ald. Shankie, they are all prepared to state that they have never heard me say I would put this question before the people to a vote."

Replying to Mr. John Dean's argument that the city could never fulfill the Equimait company's contract to supply water to the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Mayor Pendray said that, up to a few days ago, the power company had been supplied with seven or eight millions of gallons a day in excess of the quantity called for in the contract. This had happened in spite of the period of unusual drought.

Charge Dealt With
Mr. Dean had dwelt on the waste of water from the Saanich Lake system. The fault had been discovered and was being remedied. Electrolysis had eaten the pipe on Hillside Avenue leading to Smith's Hill reservoir. That pipe line was gradually being replaced by the city.

The Mayor then dealt with the charge that the city's sole object in expropriating was to create a monopoly.

In view of the fact that Victoria, at times, uses up to thirteen million gallons of water daily, and that the present flow line is only capable of carrying eighteen million gallons daily, at the present rate of increased consumption of water in Victoria and district, it will be necessary in ten or twelve years' time to lay another main from Saanich Lake to take care of this increased demand. In my opinion, there is going to be a much more rapid growth in Victoria and district in the next few years than there has been in the past, and I firmly believe that in seven or eight years' time the present flow line will be taxed to capacity," the Mayor said.

"It would mean an expenditure of at least $2,000,000 to lay another pipe line from Saanich to Victoria."

"By the acquisition of the Equimait Waterworks at a net cost to the city of about $1,000,000—of which the citizens will not be called upon to put up an iota—it looks to me," declared the Mayor, "like a good business proposition to take over this system, as this makes it unnecessary to instal another pipe-line for many years to come."

Mr. H. A. Maclean humorously remarked that it was remarkable that such a substance as water could generate so much heat.

Is Valuable Asset
Mr. John Dean, he said, had declared that the city incurred danger in assuming the contract to supply water to the B.C. Electric Railway Company. But the Equimait Waterworks Company had been carrying out the terms of that contract for twenty-eight years. It was a valuable asset to the city. It gave the city an assured income of at least $18,000 a year.

Mr. Dean had sought to show that the company could not supply sufficient water during dry years. His argument was that the city had incurred the expense of the Equimait Waterworks Company and the B.C. Electric had arisen out of the inability of the former to live up to its contract to supply water in requisite volume. As a matter of fact that litigation had not been concerned with the volume of water, but with the question of notice to the water company from the B.C. Electric when an augmented supply was demanded.

Mr. Higgins had implied that the sale of the system would result in the Goldstream watershed to Americans was to be deplored because the purchasers were Americans. What sort of objection was that? he asked.

Deposits Paid
Mr. Higgins: I say that you have not said it. (Mr. Higgins here filed a document with the committee to support his contention.)
Mr. Maclean: I say it has been said, and what is more, there is a $10,000 deposit on the transaction.

Mr. Maclean went on to remark that the development of the United States would have been greatly retarded if Americans had taken the same view towards the use of British capital that Mr. Higgins took towards American money.

Mr. Maclean answered Mr. Higgins' objections as to the powers under which the expropriation had been

Timely Relief

BEIRUT, Syria, Nov. 26.—The relief of Beiruth by French reinforcements yesterday was effected just as the garrison of 250 men, which had withstood attacks for five days, had exhausted all its ammunition. The French, who used German stick grenades, actually penetrated the citadel Monday, but were driven out.

France Turns Once Again To M. Briand

Former Premier Requested
Second Time in Week to Form Ministry—M. Herriot's
Efforts Futile

Socialist Cabinet Urged by Radicals

President Considers Experiment
Too Dangerous—
Preference Given Concentration Government

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Aristide Briand, former Premier, tonight was making his second effort of the week to constitute a cabinet to succeed the Poincaré ministry, which resigned Sunday.

Former Premier Herriot's failure to form a cabinet, announced by President Doumergue last afternoon, brought the crisis back to the point where it was at the beginning of the week. The President, for the purpose of forming a cabinet, conferred again with parliamentary leaders and then appealed to M. Briand to step into the breach again.

Socialists Refuse Support

M. Briand, who was Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Poincaré Cabinet, found the situation quite different than when he tried to make up a ministerial combination early in the week. The Socialists in the meantime had by their manoeuvres forced President Doumergue to call on M. Herriot, and it was discovered that he had made it impossible for M. Herriot to succeed in forming a Government.

The experiments remaining to be tried were a Socialist Cabinet or a concentration Government, which would be formed by the Socialists and the Radicals.

A good many Radicals and some of the more moderate parliamentarians advised that the Socialists be given a chance to show what they would do in power. It was thought the venture would last only a few weeks, when the situation would be cleared of Socialist obstruction and a stable Government could be formed.

Too Dangerous

President Doumergue decided, however, that the experiment was too dangerous and would be likely to bring further depreciation of the franc, disorganization of the country's finances and further tangling of the political situation. He gave preference to the idea of a concentration cabinet and called M. Briand again, after consulting with the Radical leaders as to the possibility of rallying the Radicals to a union of parties that would eliminate the Socialist influence.

Although preferring to take second place—that is, Minister of Foreign Affairs—in a Cabinet combination, M. Briand consented to make another effort. The Socialists, however, in that if he chooses to rely upon a majority composed of Radicals, Republicans of the Left and other moderate parties, he will be able to form a Government that will last long enough to untangle the financial and political situations.

Coup d'Etat Feared

The protracted Cabinet crisis has intensified the feeling of an impending coup d'etat which have been floating over Paris since the fall of M. Poincaré's previous Ministry in the latter part of October. The organs of the parties on the Right are accusing the Socialists of proposing to take power by force, while the Left parties contend that such a danger comes from the Fascist organizations.

Experts on the internal political affairs of France agree that the country is evolving in a situation which would make a coup possible, and in many quarters, welcome. The man in the street constantly refers to such a development as inevitable, with a tendency to regard it as a relief from the present muddled parliamentary situation. The opinion, however, that a dissolution of Parliament must come first, and then if the election should leave the parties stalemated as at present, the country probably would be ripe for a coup d'etat.

Labor Speakers Stage Attack On Dole Issue

Erroneous Impression Goes Abroad, Declares Former Premier—Laborites' Motion of Censure Beaten

LONDON, Nov. 24.—During a debate on the unemployment question, in the House of Commons today, J. Ramsay MacDonald, former Labor Premier, declared nothing had done the British reputation for business and political intelligence more damage in the United States than the widespread belief that the unemployment dole in this country is a State charity instead of a State insurance, as is the case. He ridiculed the contention that reimposition of the McKenna duties has been followed by greater employment.

The debate was precipitated by an attempt by the Labor party to censure the Government for not dealing with the unemployment problem in an adequate manner. Although official weekly figures in recent months have shown a gradual reduction in the number of unemployed, the resolution of censure, stated the present figure of 1,198,077 unemployed was misleading, and that at least 740 more should be added.

Mr. Shaw was interrupted frequently and challenged from the Government benches. Premier Baldwin finally was forced to appeal for an orderly debate. The Minister of Labor, Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, denied there had been any misrepresentation of unemployment figures. He said:

"There is, without question, a very distinct improvement in British trade, but it is an improvement with very dark patches still there."

The Laborite motion of censure was defeated, 352 to 133.

Gertrude Huntley Green Ardently Welcomed in Victoria Programme

Canada's Most Gifted Pianiste Plays Programme of Unique Interest Which Is Revelation of Exceptional Technique—Instinctive Grace Marks All Numbers

If it is possible for a critic to carry away a single regret from a recital by Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green it is that she leaves one nothing to reproach her with.

The law of attraction was very noticeable in the overflow audience which gathered at Congregational Church last evening for the first recital which this rarely-gifted pianiste had given since her return from Europe more than a year ago. Listening to her for the nearly two hours which it took to play the twelve numbers and five choruses, one could easily account for the rare hold which she has on the hearts of her public here; she not only paid them the compliment of preparing a completely fresh recital of unique musical dimension, but rendered it with a classical perfection which was in itself a gracious tribute to the intelligence of an audience which has made her a consistent and outstanding exception to the old maxim that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

The characteristic attribute of Mrs. Green's playing is unaltered. Although there is a conspicuous development and growth, there is no change in the underlying quality, which is one of instinctive grace, elegance, refinement, and the tranquillity which belongs to the classic age. Nowhere does one feel a touch of impatience, violence or impetuosity in the musician herself, although she is able to betray these emotions in the compositions which demand it. Her wonderful technique is flexible, elegant, always so more than adequate that the listener is dominated by a sense of humor, and the pianiste would not even attempt to play. Her tone has great range dimensionally, as well as in the matter of quality, but her most tremendous forte are achieved with amazing economy of effort, which leaves the listener the time to concentrate on the composition rather than on the mechanics of its rendering.

Scarlatti Opens

The programme opened with two Scarlatti numbers, the first a Concerto arranged by Godowsky, an animated number which crystallized attention right at the beginning. After this there followed the exquisitely bright and sprightly "Little Sonata" by the same composer. The succeeding numbers mounted from beauty to new beauty, each revealing some new aspect of the pianiste's clear and expressive style and magnificently developed technique.

The Mozart "Pastorale with Variations" brought a storm of applause from the audience, poetic, persuasive, with passages of running notes as clear as separated crystals. The flexibility of execution in this was amazing.

"Chorus of Derivatives" (Beethoven) brought the fervid atmosphere of a desert scene suddenly animated by madly whirling dancers. The composition was originally written for orchestra, a fact which in itself hints at the intricacies and interest of the composition.

Annotations

The five succeeding numbers were elaborately annotated on the programme. Two were Schumann compositions, the fantastically narrative "Papillons," showing that the pianiste has the gift of humor and humanity as well as a highly developed aestheticism; and the "Toccata," which afforded an exhibition of brilliant virtuosity such as any of the great pianists might well envy. Tumultuously applauded, this number, one of the finest of a superb programme, evoked as an encore the well-known transcription of "On Wings of Song," an excellent contrast.

The three Chopin numbers were also annotated. "Fantasia," "Nocturne," and "Polonaise in F Sharp Minor," a group which ranged through the whole gamut of human emotion. The Nocturne, a romantic poem, and Polonaise, a war theme, were particularly beautiful, the velvety tone and tender expressiveness in the former, and the dynamic qualities of the second making them memorable.

Of the remaining numbers, "At Spring" (Liszt), "Trisana" (Albeniz), and "Toccata" (Saint-Saens), special reference should be made to the second, which was, both as composition and interpretation, the lovely novelty of the programme. In its rhythm it glows in sparkling color, passionate, ardent, seductive, as one might see it in the land of the Dons. "Bous Bois" (Rabeau), which Mrs. Green introduced to Victoria audiences some years ago, was the first of four encores which she gave during the latter part of her programme. Godowsky's "Jugger" and the haunting Jarnefeldt "Spreide" were two of the others which she graciously added to an already rich recital. At the last she sat at the piano, embarked with flowers showing the closing minutes of the programme.

The fine-toned piano used by Mrs. Green was a Chickering from the Willis Piano Company.

to the late Mr. F. C. Wade in securing the inclusion of canned salmon and canned fruit in the list of articles at the Imperial Economic Conference. Mr. Thomson asked them to disabuse themselves of the idea that Great Britain was free trade. There were many items in the McKenna list of duties, introduced by a Free Trade Liberal Chancellor of the Exchequer, which continued until the MacDonald administration removed them, to be restored by the Baldwin administration. All food products also were not free, as was illustrated in the common commodity of sugar, an illustration of which they were aware was that of cattle export from Canada. In removal of the embargo he expressed his personal view that the better plan by Canada was to ship chilled meat across the Atlantic to England, manufacturing all the by-products in the Dominion, where it could be done better.

Mr. Thomson then traced the history of the export of wheat, wool and meat from the Dominions to the Mother Country, to show that there was an ample opportunity for trade, but much propaganda and educative effort was needed in Great Britain yet to teach Britons that the overseas Dominions could supply their needs.

A Parallel Case

Drawing a parallel between the Province of British Columbia and the State of Washington, parallels in physical conditions and geographical location, as he pointed out, Washington had surpassed British Columbia in triumphing both in marketing, and in organization. This argument was illustrated by reference to poultry, fruit and dairying in Washington. He believed if purebred and high-grade dairy stock was raised on Vancouver Island a large and profitable market could be built up. He impressed the steady movement to commercialize agricultural industry of Washington, as an example to be closely watched.

A Transformation

Mr. Thomson took a shy dig at the transformed real estate men whom he once knew here, apparently now blossomed out as bond brokers. Why did these men devote themselves so much to develop the business of industries in far distant fields, while there were so many things wanted to be done industrially in British Columbia?

People here were unaware of the growth of the lettuce business in Washington, an export business of nineteen cars six years ago having grown to 1,077 cars last year. Mr. Thomson quoted a number of statistics of other garden crops grown in Washington. There was more need for real work on the island, if they were to produce more, he asserted.

Industries Referred to

Turning next to industries, he doubted if there were as many industries here today as there were when he came thirty-two years ago. How many people here made any effort to ascertain if they were buying home-made goods—patronizing home industries? In the State of Washington 5,633 factories were producing more than the fish, apple, lumber and wheat production by more than $240,000,000 per year, with only three times the population of B.C. Mr. Thomson read some statistics to show that industry in Washington was growing more rapidly than in many other states.

Elevator Screenings

The speaker next took an opportunity to praise the port equipment already established here, and recommended the local authorities, in negotiating with the elevator companies for taxation, to see that the screenings were available for their poultry, so that the by-products would be used in developing the poultry industry of the island.

Speaking of island matters, he expressed regret that some of the areas, formerly noted agricultural ones, were not prospering. He cited particularly the Alberni Valley, with abandoned farms, and also the limited settlement west of the city, particularly on the Spoke Road, as illustrations where conditions were retrograding, instead of advancing, as the years passed by.

Use as Clearing House

Mr. James H. Beatty, who presided, explained the object of the members' forum, and remarked that the opportunity was thus given to all members to voice their opinions, as "the clearing house of the ideas of members."

Mr. C. P. W. Schwangers, president of the Chamber, said the island people were producing an output which was itself an indication of the energy of the people. He declared the speaker had taken a dark view of island agriculture.

Several members were inclined to dispute with Mr. Thomson with regard to the decline of some parts of the island, it being argued many new industries had been started recently. A remark of Mr. Thomson, favoring private game farms, was endorsed by Alderman Todd.

Throne in Siam Capital

V. is said to have had anywhere from 600 to 3,000 wives.

The heir presumptive, Prince Dhupok, was born November 8, 1893, and was the sixth son of King Rama V by one of the royal consorts.

The King's death today came about a month after he had divorced his queen and taken another wife in the hope of having an heir to the throne.

His hopes were not realized and his younger brother, Prince Dhupok, succeeds to the throne. A daughter was born yesterday to the queen.

Rama, who was forty-five years old, recently underwent an operation for an abdominal abscess, from which he did not recover. Prior to the operation, he suffered from acute gastritis.

He was educated at Oxford and was married to Princess Lakshmiyavan in 1922.

Queen Deposed

It was decided that until King Rama had made issue the succession should be through the queen mother's son. Last month Rama deposed his queen on grounds that she had not carried her duties toward King and Country "in a satisfactory manner."

The daughter born yesterday to the King and new queen, Chao Chom Suadana, was the first child to be born to a king in thirty-two years, the last being Prince Dhupok, who now succeeds to the throne.

When King Rama last month raised Lady Suadana to the rank of royal consort in place of the childless Queen Lakshmi, the following proclamation was issued:

"The King has observed that the new queen has served him with faithfulness and love and it is fitting, therefore, that she should be raised to high estate in order to support the rank of the child she will bear His Majesty in the near future."

Big Barn Dance Given by Elks Proves Success

Several Hundred Patrons Thoroughly Enjoyed Unique Entertainment—Joy and Fun Reign Supreme

Previous Fetes Excelled

Successful in every particular was the grand barn dance which members of Victoria Lodge, No. 2, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, conducted last night in their club premises, Weller Block, Douglas Street. The function surpassed in excellence last year's enjoyable festival and all present spent one of the most delightful times of their lives.

The hall was gaily and suitably decorated for the occasion and Professor Hunt's musicians were in great form, providing a most acceptable programme of the very latest in dance compositions. The response to many demands for encore.

There was not a dull moment from the time the orchestra played the opening number until the strains of the home walls brought the merry party to a conclusion. Fun and joy reigned supreme throughout the entertainment, which was voted an unequalled success by everyone present. A delicious supper was served at 11 p.m., and this was in keeping with the high standard of the fete. Novelty introduced during the evening proved exceedingly popular and created much excitement.

The committee which convened the successful barn dance follows: R. L. Loughhead (chairman), Ernie Stock, Bob Burns, Ed Jones, Wally Munkley, Archie Findlay, Harry Edwards, Dick Metters, Walter Watson, George Harris, Joe Levy, Jim Stewart, Walter Lorimer (Exalted Ruler), and Bert Best (secretary).

Ward

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of the officiating minister, Major J. Campbell, D.D., "Broadbent," Fort Street, Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Sarah Charlotte Christina Ward became the bride of Mr. Louis Vashereze.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, wore her traveling suit of dark brown and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pale pink and white roses. Miss Lilly Harris was maid of honor, and wore a pretty frock of dark blue tulle. Her flowers were pink roses and valley lilies. Mr. G. H. Harris was best man. After a honeymoon spent in Nanaimo, Mr. and Mrs. Vashereze will reside in Victoria.

Now is the time of the year to see, in the great railroad stations, what the smart young thing is wearing on her way back to boarding school and college.

After she is signed, sealed and delivered over to her seat of learning, the young girl may have to wear in uniform, but the way she keeps as close to the Paris label as possible. You see her daily between trains, window-shopping along the arcades that make modern railroad stations so fascinating. One of them the other day was wearing the little frock illustrated, made of black wool crepe with the neck and cuffs of pongee-colored crepe de Chine trimmed with rust-colored buttons and ribbons. Its straight lines are excellent for twills, cashmere, serge, flat crepe, etc.

By MRS. BELLOC LOWNDES

THE STORY SO FAR
LILY FAIRFIELD, a young English girl, on a visit to her mother's step-sister, the Countess POLDA, at her place, La Solitude, in the south of France. She arrives apparently before she is expected, and the Countess seems somewhat put out about it.
HERCULES POPEAU, midwife and Frenchman, who has helped make Lily comfortable on her journey.
ANGUS STUART, another traveling companion, captain in the London Scottish.
CHRISTINA, sister-in-law of Count Poloda, who acts as servant at La Solitude. She tells Lily that there will be a guest for dinner, a Mr. PONTING.
Mr. PONTING, He arrives to explain that he cannot stay for dinner. The Countess seems annoyed, and persuades him to stay on account of Lily. He tries to give Lily a lovely little antique box he has bought from an old woman at the Casino at Monte Carlo, but she refuses, not wishing to accept such a valuable gift from him. That night Lily hears a commotion outside the drawing-room. Going to Christina's room, she finds her bed unoccupied. Aunt Cozy finds out that Lily came into a big fortune. Walking down the hill a week later, she comes on the body of Mr. Ponting. She hurries to Mr. Popeau and he takes her to the chief of police to tell her so. The Countess is angry because Lily went first to Mr. Popeau.
COUNT BEPPO POLDA, charming son of the Countess, obviously interested in Lily. Lily sends that Beppo has the gold box Mr. Ponting had offered her for a cigarette case. The Countess says he bought it at Milan.

CHAPTER XVII
The Snuff Box

M. Popeau, Angus Stuart and Lily wandered about all over the Casino, and then they went across to the Hotel de Paris and M. Popeau ordered tea. Both the young Scotsman and the elderly Frenchman, tired with one another in "fussing" over their guest, and Lily felt happy and exhilarated—what a delightful day she was having!
"And now," said M. Popeau at last, "I fear it is time that I fulfilled my promise of escorting you back to La Solitude, Mademoiselle."
"I hope you will allow me—" began Captain Stuart, but before he could finish his sentence, Lily exclaimed, "Why, there's Beppo Poloda!"
Hurrying towards them was a tall, dark man in whom Angus Stuart took an instant, instinctive, violent dislike.

"I was afraid that I should miss you," he exclaimed, taking very little notice of Lily's companions. "Are you ready, Lily? We ought to start pretty soon, as I have to get back to the Hidalgo by five o'clock."
"You will do that very easily," interrupted M. Popeau. "It's only a quarter past four now."
Stuart felt annoyed that the Frenchman seemed to take it for granted that he would go off with this dandified-looking foreigner.

"I propose taking Miss Fairfield for a drive first." There was a touch of haughty decision in the young count's voice. It was not that he resented M. Popeau's apparent friendship with Lily, but already he reciprocated Angus Stuart's sudden unreasoning dislike.
"Beppo," said Lily rather awkwardly, "is Captain Stuart. Captain Stuart, my I introduce my cousin, Count Beppo Poloda."
The two men looked at one another.

other with a long, measuring glance, then they shook hands frigidly.
As they were making their way to the door, Lily felt behind for a moment by Angus Stuart's side. "Perhaps I shall find your letter at La Solitude," she whispered. She added: "I hope I shall."
His thin, keen face lit up. "Do you really mean that?"
"Of course I do!"
She shook hands with him and with M. Popeau, and a few moments later the car was going at a good pace past the Casino, in the opposite direction to that which would have taken them up to La Solitude.
"In Captain Stuart an old friend of yours?" asked Beppo abruptly.
Lily hesitated. To her secret relief, he went on at once, without waiting for an answer: "The word friendship means much or much or no little, my little cousin."
"That is very true!" said Lily demurely.
"But there can be no such doubt about the word love!"
The motor slowed down. They were now looking across the great green promontory which jutted out of the blue sea to the left of Monte Carlo.
"I wish I could stay on a little longer," said Beppo in a low voice.
"What a cursed thing is money!" Still, we poor mortals can't do without it. So I shall go back to Rome, and try to make what we call a lucky hit, eh? Then I shall come back, and perhaps stay up at La Solitude. Shall I be welcome, Lily?"
She looked up at him. "Yes," she said slowly. "Of course you will be welcome to me, and also to your father and mother," she said gravely. "I wonder if you know how much they care for you? They really live for you, and for nothing else, Beppo."
To her surprise he looked disturbed and troubled. "I'm afraid that's true," he said ruefully. "And yet, Lily, seriously, I feel I really know very little about them!"
Lily was indeed astonished. "I don't understand," she exclaimed. "What exactly do you mean, Beppo?"
"Nonsense!" they seemed to have come much nearer to one another in the last two or three minutes, for Beppo Poloda's deep, vibrant voice had in it a note of sincerity which surprised the girl, and made her feel far more really kindly to him than she had done yet.

"They never tell me anything about their private affairs," he went on slowly. "I need not tell you—for, of course, you must have seen it for yourself—that mamma is the master mind. She is a very clever woman. Sometimes—his voice dropped—"I wonder if she is not too clever! I speak to you thus frankly because I feel that you are already one of the family."
Lily felt touched by his words, though she thought it an odd thing to say, for, of course, she was not really related to them at all. She wondered, uncomfortably, if Beppo knew that she was his parents' paying guest.
"Ought we not to be turning now?" she suggested. "I'm afraid Aunt Cozy will be getting anxious about me. She is very particular."
They drove on, and Lily told herself that it was very pleasant to be motor-ing through this beautiful country, while listening to Beppo's full, caressing voice.
They were nearing La Solitude when Lily belittled herself of what had happened in the restaurant about the gold snuff-box. "I want to ask you something," she said suddenly.
Beppo turned his face down on his pretty companion. "Ask me anything you like," he exclaimed gallantly. "And I promise that you shall have a true answer!"
"It's only," she said, rather nervously, "that I wish you would show me that lovely little cigarette-box you bought in Milan?"

Miss Campbell Tells
Of Work in India

The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at headquarters, Hamley Building, with the recent Mrs. Curtis Sampson, in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read, also reports of the treasurer, Echoes secretary and educational secretary. Mrs. Sampson asked all members of the Daughters of the Empire who intend being present at the memorial service this morning at the Armories to be there at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Gordon Smith, Echoes secretary, asks that all primary chapters send in their reports to her by the third week in January, so that they may be ready for the next issue of Echoes.

A most interesting and informal talk on the work of the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission and I.O.D.E. work in India was given by Miss Mary Campbell, of Winnipeg, who most graphically described the appalling conditions among the natives. The young members of the Princess Mary Chapter, I.O.D.E., of the Queen Mary High School in Bombay, are most interested in their work, and are taught to weave and sew in addition to their regular school work; also there is a splendid company of Girl Guides established.

The I.O.D.E. in Canada provides for twelve beds in the great Canadian hospital in Nank, a hospital which is doing wonderful work, staffed with Canadian nurses, and run with Canadian capital. The pathetic lot of the child widows in India was touched upon by Miss Campbell, whose experiences in the country make her exceptionally able to describe the sad state of affairs. The work of the missions, schools and hospitals reaps a great reward, many of the children who are taken in grow up to be teachers, medical missionaries, and in their turn help to teach others who are in less fortunate positions.

Miss Campbell closed her address with an appeal for help in the work of the medical mission. The sum of $75 will support a native nurse or a cot in the hospital for one year, while $35 will support a native child for the same period of time.

Lady Smith Audience
Sees "My Irish Rose"

LADYSMITH, Nov. 26.—"My Irish Rose," a comedy drama of Irish life, was staged last evening at the Rialto Theatre, and was undoubtedly a tremendous success. The theatre was sold out and the audience were most appreciative.

Miss E. Robertson and Mr. McKay, who took the leading parts, filled them in a most realistic manner. The others of the cast took their parts with equal efficiency. During the intermissions, songs were rendered by the following: Miss J. Greenhorn, Mr. Hobbs, Mr. Searle and Mr. Herod.

Sale of Work Held By Langford Ladies

St. Mathew's Church Guild Convenes Successful Bazaar and Nets Goodly Sum

LANGFORD, Nov. 26.—A most successful sale of work was held yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Smedley by the ladies of St. Mathew's Church Guild. Bidding was keen and very little was left on the tables two hours after the sale opened.

Mrs. E. Goucher had charge of the plain and fancy work stall, which displayed many beautiful things. Mrs. H. A. Hinks did an excellent business at the home cooking and candy stall. Miss M. Goucher had a successful competition for a box of delicious chocolate. Mrs. H. Pearson won the prize with her estimate of 111, being nearest to the correct number, which was 116.

Afternoon tea was served by Mesdames W. C. Thornburn, J. S. Yates, F. Smedley, G. A. Heal and Miss N. Wilson.

The ladies are jubilant at the sum realized, and are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Smedley for their assistance and for the use of their home, as well as to the residents of the district for their hearty co-operation and support.

Navy League May Be Reorganized

New Effort Will Be Made to Resuscitate Organization in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, Nov. 26.—At a meeting of citizens held in the Foresters' Hall Wednesday evening, steps were taken towards organizing a branch of the Navy League of Canada. Mr. B. Harris, Dominion president, and Mr. Raynor, representative of the local league, Victoria, addressed the gathering. Mayor Harrison occupying the chair.

Mr. Harris explained that two million dollars was raised at the outset, which was distributed among orphans and widows of men of the Mercantile Marine, and to endow sailors' homes in England. Today a pension fund is in existence, doing splendid work among dependents of men who have their lives for valor. The league is also doing excellent work in establishing homes for sailors in many parts in Canada. The Navy League training embodied discipline and patriotism, which laid the foundation for good citizenship.

Mr. Raynor said that Nanaimo was ideally situated for a Navy League, and he thought the time most opportune to consider reorganizing the league in the district. The Dominion organizer had promised Nanaimo that a consistent organizer should assist with the work until the association was on a sound footing.

Mayor Harrison said he believed the Province of B.C. a suitable setting for such a league, inasmuch as under present conditions, Japanese were holding positions that could be taken by white men. The men were qualified to follow the sea.

In an unspoken discussion that followed, it was decided to appoint a committee to investigate local conditions and call a meeting at a later date, when steps will be taken to complete organization. Mayor Harrison was chosen of the committee, with Mr. J. C. Dakin and Mrs. F. Reynolds as assistants.

Wace, honorary secretary of the Vancouver Island committee of the Women's Institutes' Hospital Association for crippled children, will bring before the audience the work of this organization. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock and is under the auspices of St. Michael's Church. Rev. R. Macleod will act as chairman.

Social Club Gives Concert and Dance

Good Attendance Enjoys Entertainment at Sidney in Spite of Inclement Weather

SIDNEY, B.C., Nov. 26.—A very successful concert and dance was held under the auspices of the North Saanich Social Club at their rooms on School Cross Road on Tuesday last. In spite of the inclement weather, there was an excellent attendance, including many visitors from the outlying parts of the district. Mrs. McLean, Miss Grace Simister and Mrs. J. J. Young, of Keating, acted as accompanists. Mrs. J. N. Woods, of Keating; Miss Patty Simister and Miss Nimmo, of Saanichton, rendered solos, while a nautical song by Mr. E. Barlow and humorous solos by Mr. Lee and Mr. Owen Thomas were greatly appreciated. Little Miss Jean Speadie gave a violin solo, while Miss Dot Woods, of Keating, performed a solo dance. Miss Molly Clark danced the Highland Strathspey, accompanied on the bagpipes by Captain Wilson. The "Black and White Aggregation" proved to be a very enjoyable musical troupe, while Messrs. W. Hewick and W. Hooper offered an amusing sketch. Mr. W. Hooper also took the part of a dorkie girl in the humorous sketches, "Peaches and Cream" and "The Love Letter," both numbers being staged by himself and Alf Bert Copthorne.

At the conclusion of the programme a dainty supper was served by the ladies of the club, after which dancing was enjoyed for some time, the music being supplied by Mrs. G. McLean and Mr. W. Hooper in their usual excellent manner.

Rev. Dr. Hills Gives Lecture on London Buildings

STRAWBERRY VALE, Nov. 26.—A splendid attendance greeted Rev. Dr. Hills, D.D., in Strawberry Vale Hall last night, when he addressed an interested audience on Westminster Abbey and the Tower of London. Several historical events in connection with these well-known buildings were related by the speaker who, with the assistance of Mr. C. Fawcett, presented some particularly good slides portraying the subject dealt with by Dr. Hills. An appreciation of the lecture and slides was expressed by the chairman, Rev. A. L. Nixon, who announced that the Bible classes being conducted by Dr. Hills on Sundays in Strawberry Vale Hall wished to add to their numbers. A cordial invitation was extended to all who desire to join the class to attend the next regular meeting on Sunday, November 29.

Young People's Society Has Been Formed

COURTENAY, Nov. 25.—The United Church of Canada, recently formed, is making a special effort to gain the age and interest of the young people who attend her services. A young people's programme has been prepared by the National Young People's Board, and it is being followed by all "groups" throughout the Dominion. The programme is made up of eighteen to twenty-five years. In sympathy with this movement and under its inspiration, for it already numbers thousands, a meeting was held in the basement of St. George's United Church to form a young people's guild, on Monday evening. Almost thirty were in attendance and a most enthusiastic spirit prevailed. After outlining the young people's programme as followed throughout the Dominion, the Rev. W. T. Beattie, who was in the chair, asked for a vote as to whether this programme should be followed in its entirety. It was unanimously decided to link up with the United Church Young People's movement and to adopt its full programme. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Norman Pritchard, vice-presidents, Miss M. Rutherford, Miss J. McPherson, Mr. Cyril Burns, Mr. Stuart Smith; secretary, Miss Irene Smith, and treasurer, Mr. R. Rutherford.

Board Learns of Selective Plan Of Migration

Fishing Regulations Are Submitted Affecting the Cowichan Lake and River and Adjacent Waters

Cowichan Bay Spur Line

DUNCAN, Nov. 26.—The quarterly general meeting of the Duncan Board of Trade was held last evening at the Agricultural Building, with the president, Mr. W. C. Tanner, in the chair. Mr. H. Godfrey, late of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, and now employed by the Government in connection with the Empire Settlement Scheme, under which the Imperial and Canadian Governments co-operate in settling 2,000 selected British families in Canada per year, explained the plan in detail to the meeting. It was planned to settle these people on reverted R.S.B. lands. A number of families had been brought to Canada under the scheme last year, and these were apparently making good, including one family located near Duncan. The speaker urged the Board of Trade to appoint a committee to welcome any such settlers upon arrival in the district, and to assist in making their first impression a favorable one. The board decided to adopt the suggestion, and appointed a colonization reception committee.

Fishing Regulations
Major Ratnay, chairman of the board's fisheries committee, brought forward a resolution which was approved, dealing with proposed amendments to the Dominion Fishing Regulations applying to Cowichan Lake, Cowichan River and adjacent waters. These changes, he said, had been approved by the Cowichan Fish and Game Association, and also by Major Motherwell and other fisheries officers, and Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P., had promised to support the suggested changes if approved by both the board of trade and the Fish and Game Associations by resolution. There was no doubt about the department meeting the wishes of the board in regard to these matters.

The following changes in the seasons for angling are urged in the resolution:
Trout—April 1 to October 31, below the Duncan River Bridge, March 1 to October 31.
Steelheads—December 15 to March 31.

Chum Salmon—In the sea area closed to commercial fishing, season not to open before October 15. Weir-Nets—In the sea area, in the river, before May 1. Openings between slats not to be less than three inches. One-third of each weir to be open from Saturday noon to Monday noon, and Wednesday noon to Thursday noon in each week. The open third of the weir to be in the main channel of the river.

Tidal waters and estuary of the Cowichan to be patrolled by a fishery officer in small launch, detailed for this special service, from September to May, inclusive.

Went Spur Line

Mr. H. A. Stewart, of Victoria, divisional freight superintendent of the C.N.R., will be invited to meet the members of the board to discuss the recent resolution asking for the construction of a freight ferry slip at Cowichan Bay for the benefit of Duncan merchants, and also the question of constructing a spur line into Duncan.

Pioneer Is Laid to Rest

DEEP COVE, Nov. 26.—The body of the late William Bowmer, who had been a resident of North Saanich for over sixty years, and who passed away on Monday last at Resthaven Sanatorium, was laid to rest in the family plot at Patricia Bay on Thursday afternoon.

The body was taken from the B.C. Funeral Chapel to his late residence Thursday morning, leaving there at 2:15 o'clock for Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, where an impressive service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. T. M. Hughes, in the presence of a large number of friends and residents of the district.

During the service two hymns were sung, "Rock of Ages" and "Forever With the Lord," a solemn requiem being played by Mr. C. E. White, who presided at the organ.

The pallbearers, who were some of the pioneer residents, were as follows: Messrs. Macdonald, Brethour, C. Jones, A. Downey, L. North and W. Johns.

An mark of respect, the trustees of the local school decided that the school remain closed for the afternoon.

The passing of Mr. Bowmer sees the ranks of the pioneers fast disappearing, and testimony to this fact was shown by the large attendance at the funeral of representatives of pioneer families.

Holds Social Auction

COURTENAY, Nov. 26.—Last night the basement of St. George's Presbyterian Church was the scene of a social auction and supper. The room was well filled with bidders for the various articles of needlework and home cooking. The ladies of St. George's had secured the services of Mr. E. F. Thomas, and the various lots were disposed of in a lively manner. The supper consisted of flapjacks and syrup, cakes and coffee, and was much enjoyed. While the refreshment was being partaken of, Mr. L. Gould and Mr. Stuart Smith entertained the company with musical selections. Mr. Thomas, who kindly gave his services, was assisted by Mrs. W. Brown and Mr. Percy Booth as cashiers. The proceeds amounted to close on a hundred dollars. The Rev. W. T. Beattie acted as chairman for the evening.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

New York Americans Win First Hockey Game at Cougars' Expense

Bullet Joe Simpson Scores Only Goal of Match in Third Period—Vernon Forbes Saves His Team from Defeat—"Freddie" and Hart Star for Victoria

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 26.—Goalie Holmes relaxed his vigilance for a split second at the start of the third period in tonight's contest between New York Americans and Victoria Cougars, champions of the world, and "Bullet Joe" Simpson, with unerring accuracy, found a vacant corner and scored the lone tally that brought a 1 to 0 victory to the New York team. The big battle, the first for the former Hamilton team under the New York colors, was witnessed by 7,200 persons.

The only goal was scored by Simpson in the third period, and the game was decided in the second, looking like winners as the teams got under way for the final twenty minutes. Vernon Forbes saved his team from defeat tonight and was the outstanding performer. Freddie and Hart starred for Victoria while Shorty Green and Burch were best for New York with Simpson and Randall turning in stellar performances for Gotham from a defensive standpoint.

The Only Goal
Two minutes after the third got under way, "Bullet Joe" Simpson, paced down the right side of the ice, raised once or twice to Burch, and

Jimmy Duffy Fights Draw With Joe Roche
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland welterweight, and Joe Roche, of San Francisco, fought a slashing ten-round draw in the main event of the Alton Athletic Club programme here today. The Oakland boy's cleverness was equaled by Roche's aggressiveness. There were no clean knockdowns, but Duffy spun Roche around in the sixth with a hard right to the jaw and the San Francisco boy went to his knees. He was up without a count.

Prospect Lake Fishing
To the Sporting Editor:
Sir,—In your issue of November 20 you published a letter from Mr. J. H. Gillespie regarding the construction of a proposed fish ladder at Prospect Lake and requesting the writer to furnish information as to what progress had been made.

I might say that an energetic committee of this association has had the matter in hand for some considerable time past and made a thorough inspection of Prospect Lake, including the outlet stream and the dam which obstructs it. The outlet of the lake was approached and the question of constructing a fish ladder was amicably arranged. It being understood that it would in no way interfere with their existing water supply. Following this the whole matter was laid before both the Provincial and Federal fisheries departments with a view to securing their approval, and the latter were good enough to send one of their engineers here to look over and report on the matter, and I felt sure that as a result of his report that authority would be granted to proceed with the necessary construction. However, I was then advised that the approval of the Provincial Fisheries Department was first necessary and I am since advised that the commissioner at Ottawa desires to know "the quantities and varieties of fish which may be expected to be benefited by the proposed structure," so that apparently we have worked in a complete circle and are now back again where we started. The months ago, notwithstanding the fact that the financial outlay was arranged for.

The whole matter appears to be complicated by the fact that the non-tidal waters come under the joint jurisdiction of both the Federal and Provincial fisheries departments, each with the approval of the other, and I understand that the Game Conservation Board also has a "finger in the pie" when it comes to matters pertaining to matters of fishing, such as the use of salmon eggs, etc. Beyond the propagation and distribution of trout fry very little interest has been taken in the conservation of our game fishes, the efforts of our fisheries departments being almost entirely devoted to commercial fishes, and I think that our suggestion of a fish ladder purely for the benefit of trout fishing has somewhat upset the equilibrium of these departments. However, we intend to carry on our endeavors to have the ladder in question constructed, in the hope that it may only be the forerunner of other necessary work that should be undertaken in order to conserve our native game fishes.

In conclusion I should like to say that the chief inspector, Dominion Fisheries Department, Vancouver, has always been most courteous in all matters submitted to him and has always shown a willingness to assist in every way, but the fact of dual jurisdiction apparently makes it very difficult to get any action taken without innumerable delays.

I trust that the above will give Mr. Gillespie and others interested an idea of what we have done and the obstacles which beset us, though undoubtedly with the co-operation of all fishermen much necessary work can be undertaken which I am sure will be amply repaid by a great improvement in the fishing conditions of our lakes and streams.

Wins Marathon in Snow
NEWARK, Pa., Nov. 24.—Fred Wachsmuth, Victoria A.C., New York, won the sixteenth annual marathon over a snowy course of nine miles, 184 yards. His time was 49 minutes, 44 seconds. Fourteen of the fifteen starters finished, all within 55 minutes.

Washington Wins

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—The Oregon Web-Footers gave the University of Washington Huskies the scare of their lives here today when they threatened to mar Washington's perfect season record. The final score was Washington 15; Oregon 14; but in the last few minutes of the game a drive toward the Husky goal line failed by a dangerously narrow margin.

By the victory today Washington is undisputed champion of the Pacific Coast conference.

Falcons Will Be At Top Strength

Big Crowd Expected to Take in First International Basketball of Season

Everything is in readiness for the international basketball game between the Victoria Falcons and the Seattle Spalding five tomorrow night at the Y.M.C.A. As this is the first international hoop game of the season a great crowd of local fans are expected to turn out to see the Americans in action. Everything is "kitting pretty" for the preliminary game, the girls being all primed to go at the first blast of the whistle. The Normal team has had to make a last minute change in its line-up. Audrey will be unable to take out as Marjorie Ryall will fill the vacant forward position. This change is not expected to weaken the team any as Miss Ryall is no new hand at the hoop game. The Normal students are turning out "en masse" to see their favorites in action, while a big crowd will be cheering for the Falcons. Alex. Main has been selected to handle the girls' game, which will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

Frank Jefferies, late of the St. Mary's team, will be wearing the Victoria colors tomorrow night. Frank plays centre, and when he has worked into the style of play he should prove a very capable addition to the team. However, whether Captain Jack McKenzie will use him in the big game remains to be seen. Killings and Main, the two locals will have eight players on their roster when they meet the Seattle boys.

Play Is Started for Chess Championship

The annual chess tournament for the Victoria championship has now started and four games have already been played.

In the first game Dawkins met Enke with a Sicilian defence, and fell into the middle game, had somewhat of an advantage as his opponent had his pieces crowded and badly placed. However, after a long and hard fight, Enke obtained a slight advantage, which through allowing the forcing on of his centre pawns, led to a win.

In the second game played by Enke against Marchant, the game was a very close one, with White for a long time attempting to win a backward pawn. In the first game, the position was broken up on the Queen's side, and at a time when Marchant threatened a mate on the other side, Enke would, if properly answered, have been a series of checks that led to nothing and have lost him the game. However, with an innocent reply he obtained sufficient advantage to win after a long and hard fight.

Miller Barred From Playing on Mainland

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—E. R. Miller, who played for Trail last winter, and before that performed at Victoria for two years, was the only name not sanctioned for the Vancouver Amateur Ice Hockey League by the Mainland committee of the British Columbia Amateur Association at a meeting here last evening.

Miller played baseball in Victoria during the past summer, and moved to Vancouver about a month ago, where he has secured employment. He signed with the Monarchs. President Percy Watson wrote from Victoria that Miller must not be given a card unless he lived up to the residence clause, which reads May 14.

Kiwanis Bowling Team Wins From Davenport

NANAIMO, Nov. 26.—The local Kiwanis bowling team took the odd point from the Davenport in a bowling fixture played last night. E. Sedola was high man with 202 pins, and W. Ferguson was high average with 173 pins.

Pittsburgh Win First Pro Game By Defeating Bostonian Bruins

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—The Pittsburgh Yellow Jackets, now the Pirates, stepped from the rank of amateur hockey tonight to defeat the Bruins of Boston in the opening game of the National Hockey League. The score was two to one.

The Boston Arena was jammed with a holiday crowd to see Pittsburgh's first appearance as professionals, and the former western club of the Amateur Association proved themselves a far stronger offensive team than the more seasoned Bostonians.

Stuart of Boston, shot the first goal of the game when he outskated the defensive in the second period. His score was followed less than ten minutes later by an easy slide into the Boston net from Conacher's stick.

In the third period, Darrah, on a from Durr, shot the winning point into Boston's cage after nine

High School Rugby Teams Clash This Afternoon in Final Match

Great Game Expected When Oak Bay and Victoria High Fifteens Meet at Victoria High School Grounds—Muney Will Referee—Contest at 3:15 Sharp

Great interest is centred on the Thompson Cup final to be played this afternoon at the Victoria High School grounds between the Oak Bay High School and the Victoria High School rugby teams. The winner of today's match will win the right to represent Victoria against Vancouver here on December 5 for the British Columbia High School rugby championship. The match will be refereed by Muney, and will start at 3:15 p.m.

In the first match the Victoria students were successful by a score of 9 to 3, but Oak Bay came back strong and took the second match with a score of 7 to 5. The closeness of the scores in the two games shows how evenly the teams are matched and the winner of today's match will, doubtless, be in the dark until the final whistle sounds. Should a tie result Victoria will be declared the champions, as they have a four-point lead in the total points score.

The teams will be as follows:
Oak Bay: High School, Eagle, Macrae, Crawford, Cleveland, B. Knight, Melmoy, Terry, Stewart, Evans, W. Knight, Sherwood, Keay, Harrison, Sturges and Player.
Victoria: High School, Kennedy, Thompson, Richmond, Hogg, Hoggings, Macmurchie, Crothall, Knott, Songhurst, Shaw, Johnson, Walker, Le Marquand, Killick, Dunn, Curtis, Turgoose and Galaski.

Thanksgiving Handicap At Tijuana Opening Is Won by Sure Fire

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 26.—The opening of the 1925-26 season of the Tijuana race track today was marked by a sparkling victory by Sure Fire, from the stable of Stuart Pelt, in the Thanksgiving Handicap. In this mastery manner by Jockey Roberts the four-year-old distance runner got up in the last stride to beat the no less gallant and better known Opprey by a nose. Opprey struggled around the mile and seventy yards of the contest under the top impost of 184 pounds and gave way only at the end.

Arsenal and Sunderland Provide Football Feature for Tomorrow

Otherwise No Outstanding Engagement in English League First Division—West Ham and Huddersfield May Draw Some Attention in Metropolis

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Apart from the big game slated for Highbury when Arsenal entertain Sunderland, the fixtures for Saturday in the First Division of the English League show no outstanding engagement. In the Second Division only eight games are scheduled, three clubs of the department engaging in the first round of the English Cup, while in the Third Division all but four teams will be occupied in the annual contest. Darlington, of the Second Division, play off with Horden Athletic, an amateur combination; Oldham play Lytham, and Swansea Town play Exeter City. The thirty-eight cup games bring in all the varied leagues and alliances and combinations throughout the country and not until the third round will the big leagues take a hand in the fray.

At Upton Park
With regard to scheduled games, the affair at Upton Park should attract some attention in the metropolis where West Ham and Huddersfield Town, provided that the Hammers have fully recovered from their severe handling at Sunderland last Saturday, when they were badly trimmed.

Aston Villa have an opportunity to acquire points when they play host to Manchester City at Villa Park. Manchester United are setting up a great pace at Preston and have not lost a game since October 3, when they went down before Leeds. On Saturday they play Blackburn Rovers at Old Trafford and their fans believe they will emerge at the long end of a good score. Bolton Wanderers play at home against Cardiff City and once more the opportunity will be presented to Cardiff to see how their expensive team, recruited mostly from the Scottish League, will shape up.

Other scheduled games are: Birmingham at Burnley, West Bromwich at Leeds, Everton at Leicester, Rury at Liverpool, Sheffield United at Newcastle, Tottenham at Nottingham County.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The season's test in the First Division of the English Football League will come on Saturday when Sunderland, present leaders of the senior string, lock horns with Arsenal, the runners-up, and Sunderland's most dangerous opponents. This game, overlooking all other matches scheduled for the day after tomorrow and among football fans it has been the sole topic of the week. A terrific battle is in prospect and it is anticipated that the Highbury ground will see a record crowd.

How evenly the teams are matched may be gathered from the following table:

	Sunderland	Arsenal
Played	18	17
Won	10	10
Drawn	4	3
Lost	4	4
Goals for	48	43
Goals against	32	29
Total points	24	23

The league leaders resumed their stride a week ago when they swamped another metropolitan team, West Ham, and confidence in their prowess was restored, particularly since the reassuring victory was gained after Sunderland had been wandering in the woods for several weeks. Previous to that they had been taken into camp by Leicester City and that defeat preceded three straight drawn games.

Sunderland supporters were manifesting a certain disquietude, which increased as the vital tilt with Arsenal approached and Sunderland apparently displayed no indications of returning to the sensational form of the early season play. However, all is well in the County Durham camp, and the team is expected to put its best foot forward in its effort to retain hold on the crown.

Among Arsenal's followers a similar confidence prevails. The strength of their forward line, coupled with the defensive solidity of the immediate string, is pointed to as a sure index of success.

School Hoop Teams Meet This Afternoon

The girls' basketball teams from Rhodes School and Sefton College will stack up against one another this afternoon at the Memorial Hall. This is the first time these teams have met on the basketball court and a great game is anticipated. The teams will play under girls' rules, which will tend to do away with the hard checking, which is so prominent in girls' games when playing boys' rules. Both quintettes will have a great many students out to cheer them on to victory. This is the first time Rhodes School has had a ball team, and they are out to start the year with a win.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old Un"

JOE CATTARINICH, one of the owners of the Canadian Hockey Club, has been making great progress concerning the future of professional hockey in the United States.

He has been predicting that hockey will soon become a major sport in the country, and that it will be played every night throughout the winter as baseball is played every day during the summer.

He foresees it filling the void between the American football and baseball seasons and drawing big crowds that are not possible for basketball and track contests.

The new arena at NEW YORK will hold 20,000 people, CHICAGO will have a club next year with an arena to hold 20,000, and other cities will be in a position to handle similar big crowds.

He has been telling the Tankers that not more than ten players would have to be carried to maintain a daily schedule, and that enough material would be developed at home to save importing players from Canada.

The only obstacle he foresees is the necessity of educating the American public to an appreciation of the game, and that would not seem to be any great difficulty in doing that and doing it very quickly.

There seems to be a lot more attempted and suggested come-backs in the professional boxing game than there are come-ons (unless you take the latter description in a highly technical sense).

There has been some talk in New York lately of another invasion after American dollars by Firpo and Carpenter. Surely, surely, the people are supposed to be so astute at gathering dollars are not such utter fools as to be parted from them again so easily as this.

And now we see the announcement that BENNY LEONARD is only waiting for a real fighter before returning to the ring as a lightweight.

We did not think it of Benny. He made the announcement of his retirement so very circumstantial and was so very emphatic in saying that he was through with the ring and why.

He even went so far as to send out a circular letter to the newspapers thanking the Sporting Editors for the support they had given him in the way of publicity during his career.

And he was going to put away the gloves once and for all because his mother wanted him to quit. Poor stuff!

But possibly he has been misquoted. We have a hunch that these promises do not really say half what they are credited with.

American Product Turned Down
as Inferior for Wholesale Replacement Scheme

TOKYO, Nov. 26.—The railway department of the Japanese Government today announced plans to replace all steel rails on all railroads with German-made rails, excluding all American rails.

An expert committee, after tests lasting two years, found the American rails vastly inferior to the European product in so far as Japanese (topographical) conditions are concerned. The replacement work will require ten years and cost $9,000,000 yen, it is estimated.

Loyalty and Comradeship Veteran Aims

Draft Constitution Drawn
Up at Unity Conference—Organization Stands for King, Canada and Empire

Convention to Pass On Policies Today

Association Will Work for Ex-Servicemen's Rights—Wants Adequate Pensions
and Gratuities

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26.—Loyalty to the Empire and a programme of useful service to Canadian veterans of the Great War are the outstanding features of a draft constitution for the proposed union of veterans which will be presented to the conference of war veterans' organizations here tomorrow.

The conference spent most of the day today debating a name for the union, and the session adjourned late this afternoon until tomorrow to permit the constitution committee to conclude its labors.

It was announced tonight that the committee had concluded a rough draft of the sections of the constitution relating to the principles and aims and objects of the new organization.

Proposed Constitution
The conference will be asked to approve the following principles as part of the constitution:

"The association shall be democratic, non-sectarian, and shall not be affiliated to, or connected with, any political party or organization."
"It shall stand for loyalty to the reigning sovereign, Canada, and the Empire, for the maintenance of the foundation principles of the British constitution; for the development of a national and united spirit, and for ordered government in Canada, and while striving for peace and goodwill and friendship among all nations, will advocate the maintenance by Canada of adequate forces, on land, sea, and in the air, for the defence of our country; for the discharge of those obligations which rest upon us by virtue of our partnership in the British Empire."

"It shall stand for strong and united comradeship among all those who have served in His Majesty's forces throughout the Empire."

Unity First Object
The aims and objects of the new association are set forth at length, including among other things the right of the union of veterans to take any constitutional action to secure the rights of the ex-service men.

Unity is set forth as the first object of the new organization. Other aims are preservation of the records and memories of service, to see that those records are not forgotten by the nation and that due attention is paid to the welfare of ex-service men and their dependents. Another clause would pledge the organization to care for memorials and to keep an annual memorial day.

Would Assist Members
In line with the general objectives of the organization separate clauses provide that the organization will assist ex-service men "to secure not less than the recognized standard of wages in accordance with their ability; to secure adequate pensions, allowances, grants and war gratuities for ex-service men and their dependents and to secure honorable provision for those unable to work in their declining years."

Provision is made in the draft outline of the constitution for active participation in the new organization of men at present serving with the military forces of the Empire and those who will serve in future.

House Banquet Tightens International Friendship

world peace and international harmony.

Common Ideals

Mr. J. W. del. Farrie, of Vancouver, formerly a member of the British Columbia Legislature, struck the keynote of the evening when he said that the Canadians, who laid down their lives on the slopes of Vimy Ridge, and the soldiers of the United States Republic, who died for the same cause at Chateau Thierry, had sanctified that spirit and that purpose common to the peoples of the Anglo-Saxon world, that justice, truth and freedom must be maintained. The citizens of the United States and of the Dominion, as a part of the British Empire, must carry on in peace the achievements and "ideals of those who fought and fell in the turmoil of war, and endeavor to perpetuate them."

Mr. R. H. Pooley, leader of the Conservative Opposition, developed the ideas advanced by Mr. Farrie, and said that the Canadian people had been delivered by the late President Harding in the glades of Stanley Park, when the United States statesman had urged the Canadian people to maintain as an example to the world that spirit of friendship, trust and goodwill across the undefended border that separated the two countries. He said that on this, the second historic visit of law makers and administrators of the Republic, he knew he expressed the sentiments of the people of British Columbia when he quoted President Harding's words, "extend my arms in fraternal greetings."

Speaks for Province
Premier Oliver welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Province of British Columbia, and made touching reference to President Harding's visit to Vancouver. He said that the legislative institutions, both of Canada and the United States, obtained their inspiration from the same source, the Mother of Parliaments, and that the statutes of both the Dominion and the Province had their foundation in the common law of England. In welcoming the distinguished visitors, he did so with the full confidence that he was expressing the whole-hearted friendship of every citizen of British Columbia.

Leutenant-Governor W. Len Johnson, of Washington, replying on behalf of the visitors, declared that he and they had been much impressed by the attention and the cordial reception and hospitality extended them by the members of the British Columbia Legislature and the citizens of Victoria. He extended an invitation to the British Columbia members to visit the Legislature of Washington State at the Capital City of Olympia.

Other speakers were Senator Croft, Mr. Speaker Danahy and Floor Leader Simms, of the Washington House; Mr. L. Mackenzie, Vancouver; Major R. J. Burde, M.C., Alberni; Mr. George Miller, of the Washington Legislative Press Gallery; and Major W. de Gray, D.S.O., president of the British Columbia Press Gallery.

Radio Operators Declare Strike

Five Thousand Men Quit Work
—Atlantic Liners May Be Held Up

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Nearly 8,000 marine wireless operators, including virtually all those on British ships, are affected by a strike called today against a proposed wage cut amounting to about 15 a month. It is feared the action may affect the schedules of the big Atlantic liners, which must have wireless operators aboard. The operators are giving the situation their earnest attention tonight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Sir Ashley Sparks, New York manager for the Cunard Line, said tonight there was "not a chance" the big passenger liners would be delayed by the strike of the British radio operators. He said there are enough good British operators who are not members of the union to fill the posts.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Signs of improving business continue to appear in the reports published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Out of six indicators of basic conditions recently published by that office, five show an upward trend, the single exception being in the building trades. The index shows upward movement in railway loadings, employment, pig iron, exports and imports.

Irish Premiers Meet in London

Confer on Boundary Dispute
With British Prime Minister—
Maintain Silence

LONDON, Nov. 26.—For the first time since the commission was appointed to define the boundary between Northern and Southern Ireland, leaders of the two sides—Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, and William T. Cosgrave, President of the Free State Cabinet—met at 10 Downing Street today. They came to the Premier's headquarters at the urgent request of Premier Baldwin to consider the situation caused by the resignation from the boundary commission of the Free State representative, Dr. John MacNeill.

The three Premiers were closeted for two hours but when he left President Cosgrave declared no agreement had been reached.

Considerable importance is attached to an hour's meeting which the Free State President had with the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Winston Churchill, at 11 Downing Street, after his talk with Premier Baldwin and Sir James Craig, especially in view of reports current that the Free State may be ready to annul Article 12 of the Anglo-Irish treaty which refers to the boundary, provided the British Government forfeits its rights under Article 8, which requires the Free State to assume substantial financial obligations to the Imperial exchequer.

Feeling is stated to be tense in Chinese circles of New Westminster, Vancouver and Victoria over the case which is a sequel to the shooting of three Chinese at Port Moody May 19 last, alleged to be over a dispute in the Shon Yee benevolent society.

"The blade got duller and duller, until in a fret I'd throw it away and insert a new one. A constant annoyance, an expense.

"Abie's Irish Rose" Draws Good House

Breezy Comedy Presented at Royal Victoria Theatre Full of Humorous Situations

As a tonic for the "blues," as a dispeller of all depression or sadness, the record-breaking comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," now playing at the Royal Victoria Theatre, has been heartily recommended. The play is exceedingly witty, the dialogue being especially clever, and a most enthusiastic audience showed its appreciation of last night's performance by prolonged and repeated applause.

Briefly the story is as follows: Solomon Levy (Arthur Rose) is anxious for his attractive young son Abraham (Weldon Heyburn) to marry a "real Jewish girl," in the event of which he has promised to start Abie in business. Solomon does not think little of the matrimonial line, and brings home a pretty little girl whom he introduces as Miss Murphy. He is, however, so angry when he should find out that the girl is a real daughter of Erin.

Solomon takes a great fancy to the girl and decides that Abie must marry her. He is completely ignorant that they are already man and wife, having been married by a Methodist minister. The Cohen family, Mrs. Isaac Cohen (Bertha Walden), a lady who forgets her appetite and her husband (Jacob Franks), somewhat timid and a bit of a trial to his wife, introduce some amusing situations.

The wedding takes place, during which Rosemary's father arrives upon the scene. Then begins a battle royal between the two fathers. The Irish priest, Father Whalen (Joseph Monahan) and the Jewish Rabbi, Jacob Samuels (Rosa Gibson) recognize each other as fellow padres during the war, and between them are instrumental in patching things up and reconciling the two families.

In the last act, which is a scene in Abie's and Rosemary's flat one year later, some unforeseen coincidences and the introduction of two small but very important people, leave the audience rocking with laughter.

Dorothy Coghill as Rosemary is charming in her role of Abie's Irish Rose. Her handling of the delicate situations in which she completely upstages her father-in-law is splendidly done.

Weldon Heyburn, the good-looking and debonair Abie, brings a lovable character into the story and his splendid acting and engaging personality completely remove any prejudice the late father-in-law or the audience may have against the race. He was the stage almost throughout the entire play, his acting being of the best, and his winning manner, freshness and buoyant spirits won the hearts of the audience.

Mrs. Cohen is a tyrannical Jewess. While one sympathizes with her in her troubles, she is so amusing that her attempts to introduce paths are quite futile. Her aversion to the mere word "ham" is quite overcome when Rosemary asks her to "see to it in the oven," and she even consents to carry it in for her.

As for the stage, it is the most elaborate, the decorations proving useful as well as ornamental, and cleverly arranged by Solomon Levy. The last act is a simple in its decoration, the excellent use of the acting making superfluous scenery quite unnecessary.

"Abie's Irish Rose" will be presented tonight, tomorrow night and tomorrow matinee.

COLUMBIA Buck Jones bought a THEATRE: white horse and right after that he must have seen a red-headed girl, for he certainly does have a lot of luck—in the films and out of them. Whether a blue and white horse or a red-headed girl, he is supposed to add anything to the combination is not definitely known among the cinema "lucksters," but anyway a dog answering that description features quite prominently in "Gold and the Girl," which opened last night at the Columbia Theatre.

Ruck calls his dog Pal. Pal makes his first entrance in a much more surprising way than he has in the past. He is seen as a dog answering that description features quite prominently in "Gold and the Girl," which opened last night at the Columbia Theatre.

Comedies Should Not Insult Intelligence, Says "Freshman" Star

Never underestimate the intelligence of your audience, is the infallible rule among the few regulations Harold Lloyd follows when making the comedies that have established him as the biggest box office drawing card of the day and the most popular man on the screen.

"The public has long since become picture wise," asserts Lloyd, whose new Pathé comedy, "The Freshman," is the feature attraction next week at the Dominion Theatre. "They cannot be fooled any longer by bad pictures and by films that insult their intelligence. They demand stories that are logical and sensible."

For the last three years Lloyd has advanced to the top of the comedy heap, and more than to any other one factor, he attributes his success to the fact that he has held his audience's intelligence in the highest esteem. Critics have hailed "The Freshman" as surpassing anything he had yet done on the screen, not even excepting his famous "Prison" series.

Mighty Movie Show Comes to Local House On Monday Next

Massive concrete foundations were sunk at a small city fabricated at Universal City for the largest interior set ever constructed, and incidentally the first all-steel motion picture set in the history of the industry. This is the huge reproduction of the Paris Opera, used for the production of "The Phantom of the Opera," Lon Chaney's successor to "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," which is coming to the Capitol Theatre next week.

The entire scenic investment rivals, if it does not eclipse, the sets constructed in 1922 for the Victor Hugo masterpiece. The story enacted in these settings is a gripping mystery dealing with the "Opera Ghost," enacted by Lon Chaney, a weird figure of darkness whose activities spread nameless terror through the gay throngs of the brilliant opera. Mary Philbin, Universal's wonder girl, plays Christine, the heroine, and Norman Kerry, Raoul, her lover and rescuer. Arthur Edmund Carewe, as the mysterious "Perlan," Gibson Gowland, as "Simon," nemesis of the Phantom; Virginia Pearson, John Balphoff, and twenty-five other principals, as well as four thousand extras, took part in the play. The gorgeous opera scenes were photographed in color to add to their attractiveness.

Anna Case, Coming Here, Is Beautiful Musician

Anna Case, the second artist to appear this season under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club, is known as one of the most beautiful women on the concert stage today.

"Her voice, now in its prime, has gained in artistic glow, and perhaps the one quality that separates this great artist from many others is her pronounced spirituality," says one of her recent critics. "A voice of gold, a personality of compelling magnetism, charm of portraiture that is beyond compare."

Miss Case is to sing at the Royal Victoria Theatre Monday, December 7.

Refuse to Delay Hearing of Appeal

Appellate Bench Turns Down Application to Have Cumyow Case Heard Here

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—On the ground that it was inimical to the administration of justice that appeals should be delayed, the Court of Appeal, by a majority judgment today refused to traverse to the Victoria sitting, which commenced on the 26th of January, the hearing of Richard Cumyow's appeal from Magistrate H. C. Shaw's conviction for procuring.

Chief Justice Macdonald stated, when dismissing the application, that Mr. A. D. Taylor, K.C., counsel for Cumyow, should have shown that new evidence, on which motion for adjournment was based, could not have been obtained at the trial after due diligence and that testimony was practically decisive on Cumyow's guilt or innocence.

Mr. Taylor had said that since the conviction he had met a man named Andrews on the street who claimed that evidence could be produced that would establish the convict's innocence.

Lecturer Speaks on "Sociology and Law"

Third of Series Proves Great Interest to Audience at Victoria College

"Sociology is an inclusive name for all the social sciences, for all the sciences which deal with man as a part of society. These were the opening words in an address on "Sociology and Law" delivered last night by Prof. H. F. Angus, B.C.L., M.A., to a large audience in the lecture-room of Victoria College. The lecture was the third of a series of twelve to be held during the winter under the auspices of the Victoria Extension Association of Victoria.

"The sciences," said Prof. Angus, "are intimately connected; they are interrelated, and no one of them can be complete without the consideration of the others. We cannot go far in one science—Economics, shall we say—without touching on others, such as Ethics and Jurisprudence. It is the object of this lecture to take one of these sciences, jurisprudence, and to show how it is connected with the others, and how it can be more amply understood after these relationships have been considered."

Law Constantly Changing

Prof. Angus then proceeded to explain the meaning of law, its general application to society, and its flexibility to the ever-changing conditions of society. "We must," he said, "re-evaluate the view that there are fixed rules of right and wrong to which we have to conform. Societies are always approaching ideas, and these ideas are constantly changing, so that they are never reached."

Prof. Angus used the marriage law of society from its earliest recorded history as the best example of an institution which, while changing in form, is fundamental in nature, being the great deciding factor in the kinship of human beings and consequently in the economics of every community.

Out of this grew the laws of property, which "with us have reached an intensity which is unusual. The rights of property exist because they answer certain social purposes. There may come a time when they will be considered of much less importance, but not until some other conditions arise to answer those purposes."

Difference in a Century

"Some of us do not realize the great change that has taken place in law during the last century and a quarter. Up to that time, Prof. Angus said, law was a matter so little standardized that there were still cases which were decided by battle of some sort. The law that when a falling tree killed a man, the tree became the property of the man's relatives, was still in effect at that period."

"We flatter ourselves," Prof. Angus continued, "that in this age we have succeeded in discarding all old prejudices and dogmas, but it must not be forgotten that even as we are doing so, we are building up new prejudices and dogmas that future generations will have to discard."

The lecture was followed by a short discussion and announcements by Mr. J. T. Rott, secretary. The speaker was introduced by Alderman Woodward.

Slight Tremors Are Felt Here

Rumbling Sound Accompanies Quake of Local Origin—Felt in Six Districts

Slight earth tremors were felt at 1:27 p.m. yesterday in Victoria, and also in Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Cloverdale, Royal Oak and Elk Lake. Mr. Napier Denison, of the meteorological observatory, Gonzales Heights, announced last night.

The tremors were accompanied by a rumbling sound and lasted from two to three seconds as felt. It was recorded on all seismographs at Gonzales Heights observatory, but its movement was very small, not being more than a 15,000th of an inch. From the records the movement was strong from east to west, lasting forty seconds, its recorded time, according to the instruments. The recorded time in the movement from north to south was thirty seconds.

Its distance from the observatory was probably six miles. Mr. Denison believes it was situated in the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Surplus Will Occur, Says Minister, Notwithstanding Tax Reductions

An estimated surplus of $313,344.63 for the fiscal year 1926-27 was predicted by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, in submitting his estimates to the Legislature yesterday afternoon. Anticipated revenue was computed at $18,552,394.66, and estimated expenditures at $18,239,049.03. This surplus would occur, the Minister said, notwithstanding the tax reductions which he had announced in connection with income tax.

"The revenue receipts," he said, "show an increase of $219,394 over those of last year, made up chiefly in timber and mining receipts with slight increase in personal property and income. The expenditures show an increase of $53,254.69.

"The departments showing increase are as follows: Agricultural Department, $44,220, on account of tubercular cattle compensation and grasshopper extermination; education, $117,520, increases in per capita grants to schools and grants to University; Department of Mines, $23,020, increase in Mines Development Act, appropriation and additional analytical staff; Department of Public Works, $115,523, for roads and bridge appropriation, together with maintenance and repairs to public buildings throughout the Province, capital expenditure, interest on P.G.E. guaranteed stock, and repairs to New Westminster bridge.

"The decreases are: Public debt, $432,204.66, made up of $266,000 P.G.E. interest transferred to capital as interest on guaranteed stock and elimination of interest on $1,120,000, debentures which mature on December 1 next; Department of Finance, $2,695; Fisheries, $200; Labor, $6,950; Lands, $11,035, and Provincial Secretary's Department, $260,261."

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Premier Mussolini of Italy is assured an unfriendly reception from the followers of the Independent Labor Party, the Socialist wing of the Labor movement, if he comes to London on December 4 for the signing of the Locarno security treaties.

T.K.K. Merger With N.Y.K. Is Revived Again

Decision of Department of Communication Is Serious Blow to Transpacific Line—T.K.K. Finances Low

Plans for the merger of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha are reported to have been again brought into discussion by directors and leading shareholders of the T.K.K. as a result of the recent decision of the Department of Communications to ignore the Toyo Kisen Kaisha on the proposed construction of three new lines for the transpacific service.

The recent decision of the Japanese government authorities is considered a serious blow to the management of the shipping firm in addition to the prevailing depression in the shipping industry, it is said.

Plans for the merger of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and Nippon Yusen Kaisha have been discussed by the last three years. They were finally rejected by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha.

C.N.R. Revenue for October Increases

MONTREAL, Nov. 26.—For the month of October, 1923, net revenue of the Canadian National Railway, after payment of operating expenses, was $1,119,968, an increase of $2,486,115 over October, 1922, and of $2,744,941 over October, 1921.

For the ten months of 1923, January to October inclusive, net revenues of the national system amounted to $10,485,721, as compared with $10,769,664 in the same period of 1922 and $12,114,712 in 1921. Gross earnings of the system for October, 1923, amounted to $1,175,851, an increase of $4,335,125, as against the corresponding month of 1922, and an increase of $913,049 over October, 1921.

British Steamer Falls City Limp Into Port

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Her superstructure crumpled, the starboard side of her officers' quarters gone, her galley wrecked, lifeboats missing and smashed, skylights and railings wrecked in the wind and half of her crew of thirty-six injured, the British steamer Falls City, loaded with coal, limped to her dock in Brooklyn last night, many days overdue.

Taking out a list of nearly 250 passengers the Admiral liner Emma Alexander sailed for California ports at 11 o'clock last night. Sixty passengers embarked here.

Chasina Case Is Dismissed

Claim for $13,000 Against Alaska Pacific Shipping Company, Ltd., Unsuccessful

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—Proof that a claim of the Marine Repairs Company, Ltd., North Vancouver, against Alaska Pacific Shipping Co., Ltd., for work done to the steamer Chasina had been assigned to the Royal Bank of Canada, resulted in Mr. Justice Murphy in Supreme Court today, after a trial which opened Wednesday, dismissing the claim of Marine Repairs Company, Ltd.

Plaintiff claimed $13,000. Defendant pleaded that the contract stipulated that the repairs should not exceed $5,000.

The Chasina has been sold and the purchase price, $13,000, paid into court to await the outcome of the trial. The forty-two-year-old vessel, formerly the well-known coaster Santa Maria, is engaged in the export trade.

Because the ground of assignment had not been raised by defendant until today, Mr. Justice Murphy adjourned for argument the question of payment of costs.

The Hokko Maru, en route to Victoria to load a large shipment of Japanese goods, was reported 700 miles from Kaituma at 8 p.m. Wednesday. This should bring the vessel in about Saturday or Sunday.

Libelled for $250,000 by Shanghai Bank

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 26.—Repossession received here from Hong Kong says that a Shanghai bank has attached the steamer President Grant for a half-million yen, as the result of a controversy over a bill of lading in connection with the failure of Takata & Company, a Japanese concern. The claim laid against the Grant amounts to approximately $250,000 in Canadian currency. The President Grant operates between Seattle and Victoria and Orient ports. She is owned by the United States Shipping Board, and operated by the Admiral Oriental Line.

Scotland Sails On World Tour

Navigation Season on St. Lawrence Ends With Departure of Globe Trotters

QUEBEC, Nov. 26.—Sharp on the mark of three o'clock yesterday the Ss. Empress of Scotland left her pier for a cruise of the world, the hundred passengers of the British Isles who arrived in Quebec Sunday making the ancient capital of Canada their first port of call in seeing the globe, further complemented the list on departure.

Commander Latta of the Scotland, who is host of the globe trotters, is a well-known golfer and his final remark as the gangplank was lifted was: "Let us make one beautiful drive around the world."

The Montreal, sailing thirty minutes later, closed the Canada-Liverpool passenger traffic for the season of 1923, a banner year in travel, under the command of Captain Turnbull, the Canadians being largely successful Western wheat growers who are returning to the home land to spend a few months before the Spring planting.

These of the old land on the Empress of Scotland will complete a party of slightly more than 400 to encircle the world, making a happy family of English-speaking people calling on the ports of other nations.

Inventor of Oil-Electric Car Honored

Predicts Big Development—Endurance Test of 2,900 Miles Without Stop Big Success

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Remarkable development of the oil-electric car in the immediate future, far greater perhaps than his hearers thought possible, was predicted by the inventor of the engine, Mr. A. E. L. Chorlton, of the W. D. Beaumont Works, London, England, in a short address at a luncheon of the Ottawa branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada, today.

The celebrated trip to Vancouver from Montreal was an endurance test for an engine that had not run 150 miles, the inventor said.

The engine was not stopped during the entire trip of 2,900 miles, occupying two and a half days. The trip was made to establish in the minds of those who would operate the new units that they were fool-proof and easy to operate and maintain. Power was developed at the rate of slightly more than one cent per kilowatt, the cost being about two cents per car mile. This compared with twenty-three to twenty-four cents per locomotive mile and thirteen or fourteen pounds of coal per car mile.

Protesilaus Has Capacity Cargo

Blue Funnel Liner Takes 16,000 Tons of Freight to Orient—Philoctetes Here

Taking out a capacity cargo of 16,000 tons, the Blue Funnel liner Protesilaus sailed for the Orient yesterday morning. Her cargo comprised flour, suited fish, lumber, spelter and general.

Shortly after the Protesilaus had cleared for the Orient, the Philoctetes, also in the transpacific service, took her berth. The Philoctetes brought in 5,000 tons cargo, including 3,020 bales of raw silk and 53,000 bundles of Japanese oranges for transshipment to eastern ports.

There were three first class passengers and seventy-two steerage on board the vessel. Eighteen steerage and one saloon passenger embarked here. The first class passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Melbourne, en route to Boston, and Mr. C. P. Mollison, of Shanghai. The Philoctetes cleared for Vancouver at 1 p.m.

Coast Halibut Gets Place in Limelight

Fisheries Commission Is Baring Family Life of Exclusive and Mysterious Fish

SEATTLE, Nov. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Halibut, hitherto the most exclusive and mysterious of the edible fish family in North Pacific waters, soon will have as much family privacy than a motion picture star.

Although halibut make their home and rear their families in the almost impenetrable ocean depths considerable progress has been made by the International Fisheries Commission halibut investigation committee toward revealing both their individual and family life.

Mr. William T. Thompson, of B.C., director of the investigation, yesterday reported to his advisory committee and to Henry O'Malley, United States Commissioner of Fisheries, and John E. Haddock, of Victoria, chairman of the board, the progress of his work. The meeting was held in the Bureau of Fisheries office here.

The investigation is designed to disclose whether the halibut is decreasing or increasing. The result will be the basis of uniform fishing regulations both by Canada and the United States, in line with the provisions of the treaty by which the International Fisheries Commission was created.

Also, according to Haddock, who terms the treaty the "most common sense action with reference to fisheries ever taken by the two countries," it probably will be the foundation of an investigation of the entire marine food supply of the Pacific Coast.

The biggest accomplishment of Dr. Thompson to date was the tagging of large number of halibut as a means of determining whether they migrate from one halibut bank to another. This can be learned three or four years hence when the tagged fish are caught.

"We hope," Haddock said, "to learn as much about the halibut as we now know about salmon, whose autographs are written by their scales."

WOMEN WHO LOOK OLD

In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are overworked, overfed, nervous and run-down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look years older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent canvass among over one hundred and twenty thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.
